Eisenhower Opens Talks With Mexican President

OFFICIALS ARE CONFIDENT DIPLOMATIC NEGOTIATIONS WILL PREVENT A CONFLICT

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—In spite of talk about a shooting war over Berlin, U. S. officials expressed confidence today that a conflict can be avoided by diplomatic negotiation.

There is considerable belief in high quarters here, however, that Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev may substitute a summit conference for the foreign ministers meeting proposed this week by the Western powers.

Some U. S. authorities expect that Khrushchev will issue a call for a heads of government session to be held in the near future.

Split Causes Iraq to Face Civil Strife

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP)—Premier Abdel Karim Kassem's split with the followers of U. A. R. President Nasser and his closer relations with Iraq's Communists are threatening to tear his revolutionary government apart and plunge the nation into fierce civil strife.

Kassem himself is still extremely popular, but there are many doubts arising about his entourage.

In short, the honeymoon is ending for the revolutionary forces which overthrew the pro-Western government of Nuri Said and assassinated young King Faisal last summer.

With the Nasserites evicted from the Cabinet, the men around Kassem now are dissipating popular enthusiasm for the republican regime by an increasingly stern effort to put Iraq into a quasi-Marxist doctrinal straitjacket through police state methods.

The result is a wave of privately voiced criticism which would have been unthinkable a month ago.

The trend appears to be toward even more of a military (Turn to Page Twenty-two)

Jukebox Racket In Chicago Is Getting Attention

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate probes take a look today at what they call underworld muscle used on the jukebox and pinball machine business in Chicago suburban areas.

Robert F. Kennedy, counsel to the special Labor-Management Committee, predicted the evidence would follow a pattern somewhat similar to that in the just-completed hearings on coin machine operations in New York and Brooklyn. Testimony focused on alleged gangster-labor union conniving and terrorism.

In the Chicago probe, he said, the union involved in the hearings is Local 134 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, headed by Michael (Umbrella) Boyle. In New York, it was Teamsters Union Local 286, headed by Joseph D. Grandis.

The committee wound up its hearings on New York coin machine racketeers Wednesday with testimony that a group of jukebox operators loaned millions of dollars to New York racketeers at interest rates up to 128 per cent.

Local Group Plans Trip to Washington To Discuss Dam

A determined contingent of local officials and citizens will leave Warren Thursday, February 26 for Bradford where they will fly to Washington, D. C. for a scheduled conference before Pennsylvania Congressmen and Senators Joseph Clark and Hugh Scott, the purpose of the meeting to seek revivification and accelerated action on the construction of the Kinzua Dam project.

At press time it was confirmed that the group would include Commissioners Blain Mead and Lewis Crippen; James Kannan and David Swanson of the Warren Planning Commission; George Geracimos, borough manager with Merle Kremer, chairman Warren Area C. of C. flood control committee to appoint delegate this p. m. Other Warren men are being contacted to make the trip, and it is expected that the entourage may number ten.

Senator LeRoy Chapman and Assemblyman Allen M. Gibson in conferring Monday with Governor David Lawrence, were advised that he would also be in the Capitol to discuss the measure with the senators and congressmen of the state and to stress the need for speedy construction of the dam. The Governor did state that, in his opinion, the actual delay was being caused more by the Indian problem than any other and could not see how it would be possible to see court procedure hurried.

There is some speculation that he would like to get a conference before Secretary of State John Foster Dulles is well enough to attend. Khrushchev and other Soviet leaders have often denounced Dulles and sometimes contend they could not do business with him.

Dulles is hospitalized for an indefinite period, recovering from a hernia operation and preparing to undergo treatment of cancer.

Present indications are that the United States, Britain and France would be prepared to go into a summit meeting only if it were preceded by a foreign ministers conference in which there was substantial progress toward East-West agreement on outstanding German problems, including Berlin.

The Soviet government has said that it intends to turn over its occupation authority in East Berlin to the East German Communist government. The Western powers do not recognize this regime and have so far refused to do business with it. They therefore anticipate difficulties if the East Germans try to exercise control over their access routes from West Germany to Berlin.

But what officials are counting on is a start on active negotiations between the Western powers and the Soviet government on a whole range of German problems. They expressed conviction that if such negotiations are under way the Soviets will not force the issue or permit East Germany to force the issue of the access routes.

Britain's Record Fog Is Reported Lifting

LONDON (AP)—Britain's thickest, longest and foulest-smelling fog of the season began lifting slightly today after four days, but the Air Ministry said it would be back tonight bad as ever.

Thousands of drivers throughout London and southern England used the brief relief to pick up automobiles abandoned earlier when driving was impossible.

Air pollution experts from St. Bartholomew's Hospital said the fog was accompanied by high pollution, that the smog content was as much as 10 times greater than normal for this time of year.

DEFICIENCY BILL

HARRISBURG (AP)—A bill providing $15,203,000 in deficiency appropriations carried Gov. Lawrence's signature today.

Lawrence signed the measure Wednesday to provide stop-gap funds for vital state operations. He also signed a companion bill authorizing the loan of $11,605,480 from the State Employees' Retirement Fund to help cover deficiencies.

At press time it was confirmed that the group would include Commissioners Blain Mead and Lewis Crippen; James Kannan and David Swanson of the Warren Planning Commission; George Geracimos, borough manager with Merle Kremer, chairman Warren Area C. of C. flood control committee to appoint delegate this p. m. Other Warren men are being contacted to make the trip, and it is expected that the entourage may number ten.

Three Manufacturers Are Planning for Smaller Cars

By DAVID J. WILKIE

A. P. Automotive Writer

Detroit (AP)—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler have a smaller automobile definitely in their planning for the 1960 model year. Each already has one or more of the shorter wheelbase vehicles through the styling and engineering stages.

None of the "big three" of the auto industry will admit U. S. production of the smaller cars has been decided upon. Neither will they deny it. Trade circles generally believe only a collapse of the small car market could now change the GM, Ford and Chrysler planning. There is no present indication of a falling off in the smaller car market, dominated largely by imported units.

General Motors admits only that it is continuing to study the smaller car market. That statement was in the GM annual report made public today. Ford and Chrysler are withholding any comment.

Sources close to the car industry said that GM probably will be first out with its 1960 model shorter wheelbase model; that Ford will present its entry late in November or early in December and Chrysler at about the same time. The New York Times said today that Ford already is definitely committed to production of the smaller automobile, that production dies have been ordered and that pilot plant tests for the final assembly line are under way. The paper added the new smaller car would sell for less than $2,000.

A spokesman for Ford said that it has made no statement to the effect that it is going to build a small car, either the Ford or the Edsel.

The probable entry of General Motors, Ford and Chrysler into the smaller car field with vehicles produced in this country has been discussed for more than a year. The gossip and speculation got impetus from the unprecedented growth of demand for smaller imported vehicles and for American Motors' Rambler models.

County Youth Faces Charge Of Plotting Life of Another

Fugitive from justice charges were filed against a 17-year-old Bear Lake youth today by Pennsylvania State Police after the young hoodlum was brought to Warren County jail by Corry state police.

Robert Brightman surrendered meekly to Corry officers last evening when his plot to kill 19-year-old Lloyd Parker was foiled. Brightman intended to murder Parker, the one person he believed was aware of his recent exploits.

Brightman has been linked to two Chautauqua County armed robberies this week.

Joining with Cpl. Joseph Mastrian of the Warren substation, Borough Chief of Police Mike Egan and Sergeant William Egan of the borough force in interrogation of the young man were Cpl. John R. Kruppy of the Corry substation state police, Detective Earl Theis of Jamestown; Deputy Sheriffs Merle Campaign and Edwards of Chautauqua County, N. Y.

Wednesday evening Brightman was hiding in the barn on the James Parker farm, RD 1 Bear Lake, awaiting an opportunity to kill Parker, who was to go to the barn to do chores dusk.

James Parker, Jr. and Robert Curry happened to go to the barn and discovered Brightman. They persuaded him into going to the farm house, police said.

Once outside the barn, the two men seized the pistol Brightman carried in the waistband of his trousers and held him prisoner while they called State Police.

Parker said he loaned his car to Brightman on two occasions (Turn to Page Twenty-two)

Whites Remaining Away From Front Royal High School

By ED YOUNG

FRONT ROYAL, Va. (AP)—Classes began today for 22 Negro pupils in the newly reopened Warren County High School, integrated in theory but segregated in fact.

The 22 were the only pupils to appear at the previously all-white school of 1,000.

Less than a dozen townspeople gathered at the school this morning but there was no disturbance. Policemen still patrolled the area. The Negro children arrived in autos as they had Wednesday to register.

School officials said they were convinced no white pupils would enroll.

The white children are either attending classes being operated by a private foundation, or have gone to other schools.

The school had been closed since September under state anti-integration laws. Nearly 800 white pupils have been attending private classes.

Until Wednesday the county had no high school for Negroes. Principal James Duff said, "Practically all courses the students require will be offered" despite the small registration. There will be no extracurricular activities, however, unless more pupils enroll. The school cafeteria will be closed.

A white faculty of 10 will teach at the 40-classroom high school.

Dogs Credited With Saving Four Lives

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The barking of the family's two dogs was credited by police today with possibly saving four members of a suburban Mt. Oliver family from death by carbon monoxide.

Mrs. Elizabeth Platz, 38, was awakened by the animals. She staggered into a bedroom and found her 41-year-old husband, Victor, collapsed on the floor.

Mrs. Platz called police. They found her near unconscious in the room of her daughters, Elizabeth, 18, Kathleen, 14. The girls also were nearly overcome.

Vital Questions May Be Answered By New Vanguard

WASHINGTON (AP)—The future man in space may some day get an answer to the important question "Where am I?" from the computing system now cranking out orbit schedules for America's new weather satellite.

The answer will be vital. For a space voyager must know how high he is and how fast he is traveling in order to plan his return.

The prediction that the Vanguard computing center here will be able to provide the answer came today from Dr. Evelyn Boyd and Chester Raker, two of the mathematician programmers.

The New Vanguard continued to slice through space today, sending back weather information from its orbit.

Rep. Reed, of New York Dies at Walter Reed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Daniel Alden Reed (D-NY) died today of a heart attack. The 83-year-old congressional veteran was stricken at Walter Reed Army Hospital where he had been under treatment for 14 weeks for an infected foot.

As ranking Republican and former chairman of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, Reed was known best as an advocate of protective tariffs to fend off competition from foreign goods.

He fought unsuccessfully for an income tax cut in 1953, against the stand of the Eisenhower administration, and was a bitter opponent of the excess profits tax.

Cyprus Talks Are Moving To Conclusion

BULLETIN

LONDON (AP)—An agreement ending four years of bloodshed on Cyprus was signed today by the British, Turkish and Greek governments. Turkish Foreign Minister Fatih Zorlu, in announcing the compact, said there had been no compromise and no last-minute concessions to Archbishop Makarios, leader of the Greek Cypriot negotiators.

By GARVEN HUDGINS

LONDON (AP)—Archbishop Makarios retreated in his demands today and all indications pointed to a successful conclusion—perhaps this afternoon—to the Cyprus independence conference.

A full conference session was scheduled for the afternoon with Prime Ministers Macmillan of Britain, Karamanlis of Greece and Menderes of Turkey attending. Inclusion of the prime ministers was taken as an indication that agreement was near on the plan to end four years of bloodshed on the strategic east Mediterranean island.

Makarios, leader of the island's Greek Cypriot majority, was reported to have modified his objection to Britain's retention of sovereignty over her military bases on Cyprus.

The bearded 45-year-old politico-churchman modified his earlier objections to the Zurich plan, informants said, after being served this ultimatum:

Accept the blueprint drafted by Greece and Turkey for giving the British crown colony independence or accept the responsibility for the negotiations ending in failure.

Greek Foreign Minister Evangelos Averoff emerged Wednesday night from an emergency session of conferees—including Makarios—and told newsmen: "There is better than a 50-50 chance of success."

Turkish Foreign Minister Fatih Zorlu commented: "Agreement? Maybe tomorrow."

The tense two-hour session came after reports Makarios clashed with the Greek government delegation headed by Premier Constantine Karamanlis. Informants said the two finally had ironed out their differences.

Karamanlis, a staunch supporter of the archbishop in his long fight with Britain to gain freedom for Cyprus, was reported angry at Makarios' unbending attitude toward a compromise.

The British, Greek and Turkish governments and representatives of 100,000 Turkish Cypriots have reached basic agreement on the shape of a republic for the strategic east Mediterranean island.

Makarios reportedly had three main objections to the Zurich plan:

1. That it gave the three pro (Turn to Page Twenty-two)

Telephone Threat Reveals Illicit Drug on Airliner

ATLANTA (AP)—A short chubby man was arrested aboard an airliner arriving here early today after a telephoned bomb threat uncovered heroin valued at about $500,000 on the illicit drug market in luggage at a New York airport.

The man carried a New York driver's license issued to Richmond Alston Jr., 44, of Jamaica, Long Island. He was held for investigation, Police Supt. J. L. Tuggle said.

Federal narcotics agents and Atlanta detectives took Alston, a Negro, off the Capital Airlines Viscount when it arrived in Atlanta at 2:53 a. m. with 13 other passengers aboard.

Police were alerted after the narcotics were found in an unclaimed brown overnight bag taken off the plane at New York's LaGuardia Airport as a result of the bomb hoax. Fifty-one packets of heroin were found in the bag.

The New York-Atlanta-New Orleans bound plane was one of four searched in New York.

Frozen Feet Is No Handicap to Sparrow

DETROIT (AP)—A sparrow, dallying over a meal of bread crumbs, found its feet frozen in a puddle.

Cass Kulsea, a bird watcher, noticed its predicament.

Kulsea said he chipped the bird loose with his pocket knife but there was so much ice around its feet it couldn't move.

Kulsea took the bird in his home, held it under a faucet and ran warm water over the ice until it melted. Then he released the sparrow.

It went back to the bread crumbs.

Minority Report To Be Submitted On New Tax Plan

By FRED B. WALTERS

HARRISBURG (AP)—A Democratic member of the Constitutional Revision Committee said today a minority report would be submitted to the Legislature proposing a graduated income tax.

Miss Genevieve Blatt, internal affairs secretary, said she would be joined in submitting the report by Mayor Richardson Dilworth of Philadelphia and Mrs. Robert L. McGeehan, legislative chairman of the League of Women Voters.

Three other persons on the 15-member commission also have recommended removal of a constitutional prohibition against graduated taxes. But they were reported to be ready to submit separate minority reports.

The question is what the Legislature will do about a report from the nine-member majority against a graduated income tax.

Rep. Stephen McCann, House Democratic floor leader, said he would consult with his GOP counterpart, Rep. Albert W. Johnson, about legislative sponsorship of both majority and minority reports from the commission.

McCann said he would meet with Johnson March 1 about the mechanics of submitting actual legislation on the commission's recommendations, which are expected a week later.

Ike's Comment About Union Irks Reuther

By NORMAN WALKER

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—President Eisenhower's comment about union leaders on the sunny beaches of Puerto Rico provoked Walter Reuther Wednesday night to a barked reply citing the President's Acapulco visit and his golfing and hunting.

Eisenhower at his news conference Wednesday brushed off Reuther's call for a march of American unemployed on Washington. The chief executive expressed doubt that the AFL-CIO leaders—in San Juan for their annual winter meeting—would desert the sunny beaches to "march from there over to this foggy Washington."

Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers, retorted that he goes where he is obligated to attend meetings, just as Eisenhower was going to the sunny Mexican resort today to meet with President Adolfo Lopez Mateos.

Reuther said he was going to the sunny Mexican resort today to meet with President Adolfo Lopez Mateos.

CHIEF EXECUTIVE'S PLANE GREETED AT AIRPORT BY DELEGATION OF OFFICIALS

By MARVIN ARROWSMITH

ACAPULCO, Mexico (AP)—President Eisenhower flew into this tropical resort today to begin two days of talks with Mexico's President Adolfo Lopez Mateos.

The 49-year-old Mexican leader led a big delegation of government officials who gathered at the gaily bedecked airport to welcome Eisenhower.

Thousands of excited Mexicans lined the streets of Acapulco to join in the greeting.

The President flew here in his personal plane, the Columbine III, after an overnight stop in Texas.

With the Mexican President were U. S. Ambassador Robert C. Hill and Mexico's foreign minister, Manuel Tello.

Accompanying Eisenhower were his brother, Milton Eisenhower, a White House adviser on inter-American affairs, and Roy H. Rubottom, assistant secretary of state for Latin American relations.

The President took 3 hours 37 minutes for the flight here from Bergstrom Air Force Base at Austin, Tex.

After greeting one another, the two presidents reviewed a military guard of honor composed of Mexico's presidential guards.

Then they left for Eisenhower's Acapulco "White House," the lush Pierre Marques Hotel.

It was the fourth visit of an American president to Mexico. Before Eisenhower came Presidents Taft, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Truman.

Posters along the route from the airport to the center of town featured the Mexican and American flags entwined.

Communist calls for anti-American demonstrations apparently were being ignored by thousands of holidaying Mexicans and others as the scrubbed and shining city readied its best holiday face for the chief executive from the north.

Communist pamphlets charged Eisenhower was coming to enslave Mexico as a satellite of the United States. But the pamphlets were not widely distributed.

U. S. Secret Service agents here to guard Eisenhower during his two-day visit showed no concern. Mexican police have chased about 150 potential troublemakers out of town.

President Eisenhower left Washington Wednesday in his plane, the Columbine III. He spent the night at Bergstrom Air Force Base, near Austin, Tex.

Eisenhower told his Washington news conference the primary purpose of his Mexican visit is to pay his respects to a great neighboring republic. He last met a Mexican president in March 1956, when Lopez Mateos' predecessor, Adolfo (Turn to Page Twenty-two)

NEW YORK (AP)—New York's "little old lady" bank robber faces a prison term of up to 10 years.

Vera Owen Wilson, 57, pleaded guilty in General Sessions Court Wednesday to a charge of third-degree robbery in a $3,420 bank holdup Dec. 3.

Mrs. Wilson obtained the money at a branch of the First National City Bank in Manhattan after threatening to throw acid in the face of a teller. She escaped but claimed she dropped the money on the street later and was afraid to reclaim it. It has never been recovered.

She was caught in a subsequent holdup attempt Jan. 2 as she tried to leave a nearby branch of the Industrial Bank of Commerce with $1,190 also obtained on a threat of flinging acid. In both cases the acid proved to be water.

Mrs. Wilson, a widow who said she staged the robberies because she was homeless and broke, originally was indicted on four different counts but was allowed to plead guilty to the single charge. She will be sentenced April 6.

Havana Again Hears Click of Roulette and Rattle of Dice

By TED EDIGER

HAVANA (AP)—The click of roulette wheels and the rattle of dice came back to Havana today like a sweet melody—for foreign tourists and well-to-do Cubans.

Fidel Castro's revolutionary regime added a little glitter to its reform program by taking the padlocks off the doors of the plush gambling casinos. But poorer Cubans were still barred from the tables. The "popular" casinos where small sums were bet will stay closed.

The multimillion-dollar industry that enriched fallen dictator Fulgencio Batista and many American racketeers resumes in 11 big Havana casinos. The revolutionary regime promised strict government control.

Under Batista the casinos paid a $25,000 licensing fee and a percentage of their profit to the government. The casino operators often paid out additional sums of $100,000 or more in bribes and graft.

Premier Castro laid down a new set of rules designed to root out the racketeers and enrich the nation's treasury.

The National Institute of Saving and Housing will regulate the casinos.

The new division of profits has not been announced, but the government has been considering taking 70 per cent—a shocking 40 per cent for welfare and 30 per cent to promote tourism. Play in the old days often ran between one and two million dollars a night.

The old Smith GLF store on corner of Pennsylvania avenue east and Carver street, was the scene of a fire on the second floor about 9 p. m. last evening.

The fire is said to have started from a chimney. Charles Lyons, Clarendon, was working in the structure and had a basement furnace lighted. Lyons is believed to be employed by Pennzoll Oil Company to raze the building. Pennzoll expects to erect a new structure on the site.

All borough fire equipment responded to the call and off-duty firemen were called in. Firemen remained at the scene for two hours.

The structure will be recalled as the former Saunders Hotel, recently housing Smith GLF and Hanson's Hardware. Apartments in the three-story building were occupied until about a month ago. There were no furnishings in it.

Accidents Give Boro Police Busy Noon Hour Wed.

Slippery streets caused three accidents within a period of an hour Wednesday, a parked car involved in all three.

First accident occurred in front of Guiffre's Confectionery at 11:08 a. m. when a car pulled from the south curb of Pennsylvania avenue, Virginia E. Morley, 25 Pickering street, Sheffield, attempted to make room for the turning car and struck a parked auto owned by Charles L. Larsen, 24, of 200 Madison avenue. The Larsen machine sustained $100 damage, $250 to the Morley car.

Clark street was the scene of the second accident at 12:03 p. m. when R. C. Mumford, 50, of 110 Conewango avenue, pulled into the path of a car operated by Joseph Pasquino, 48, of 25 Conewango. The Pasquino machine was unable to stop on the slippery pavement, crashing into a parked auto owned by A. L. Anderson, Erie. Damages amounted to $50. Mumford told police a parked car obstructed his view of the oncoming postal truck driven by Pasquino.

Icy intersection of Central avenue and Lincoln was the setting for the third mishap at 12:18. Clair W. Proud, Jr., 33, of 218 Central avenue, was traveling north on Central when he struck a panel truck operated by Frank C. Hall, Kinross, on the right 'spun into the side of a parked car owned by Greg G. Hyer, 22, of Corry. Damages were estimated at $150 to the Proud auto, $400 to Hall's and $600 to the parked car.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Central Illinois Public Service Co. plans to spend about $9 million dollars on new construction and replacement facilities in the next two years. The 1959 budget is $28 million while 22 million is slated to be spent in 1960, the company said.

NEW YORK (AP)—Stauffer Chemical Co. said it will spend two million dollars to expand and modernize its Niagara Falls, N. Y. plant. The project will add about 25 per cent to Stauffer's caustic soda and chlorine production capacity.

The U.S. growth since the beginning of the decade has been 24½ million—an increase of 1.7 per cent annually.

Oddities in the News

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A jury awarded Mrs. Lillian Poelke $22,500 after deciding her neurosis resulted from being stuck between doors in an elevator—with a fire in the shaft.

She testified the experience caused her to have frequent dreams of being stuck in an elevator with a fire in the shaft. The judgment was against the owners of the apartment building.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Animals can observe the unusual antics of people again today at the St. Louis Zoo.

For three days visitors had been kept out by a strike of 55 zoo employees. The 1,600 animals were unhappy about it. They acted bored and listless.

The strike was settled Wednesday when zoo management recognized Local 410 of the Institutional and Public Employees Union as bargaining agent for the employees.

PROVO, Utah (AP)—Poet Carl Sandburg says he thinks if Abraham Lincoln were alive today, he wouldn't be a member of either major political party.

"In fact, he would likely favor a new party. There is so little difference between the present two," Sandburg said. The famed biographer of Lincoln was here for a series of lectures.

BRIGHTON, Colo. (AP)—Mrs. Elsie Naeb happened to be talking on the telephone in her husband's liquor store Wednesday when two bandits walked in.

Without blinking an eye, she started speaking German, describing the holdup in progress.

Mrs. Herbert Naeb, her daughter-in-law on the other end of the line, called the police.

Jose Hernandez, 20, and Nash Hernandez, 18, were arrested later by Sheriff Robert Roberts. He said they admitted the $74 holdup. No charges have been filed.

CANADAIGUA, N.Y. (AP)—As

policemen gathered for a meeting of their benefit association at Police headquarters in this western New York community, a small car crashed through the window. Inside was a note saying: "Dear sir, your window is broken."

They quickly caught the thrower, William Souier, 16, who explained: "There isn't much for a kid to do in this town, so I thought I would have a little excitement."

He was charged with malicious mischief.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—For 18 months Vencil Gene Hawkins had been getting traffic tickets—and ignoring them.

In court Wednesday police produced 35 citations. They included running stop signs, illegal lane changes, speeding and nine for driving with a revoked driver's license.

Municipal Judge Joseph Marchetti convicted Hawkins, 26, on each count and sentenced him to 1,455 days in city jail.

"Why—they don't get that much for manslaughter," Hawkins protested outside court. "And murder is only seven years."

He plans to appeal.

The first direct blow for American liberty was struck by forerunners of the National Guard in 1774. The New Hampshire Militiamen struck Fort William and Mary in Portsmouth Harbor, New Hampshire, destroying British supplies and ammunition, thus forestalling an invasion.

GAS TAX MERRY-GO-ROUND
Most adults clothe the merry-go-round with nostalgic memories of carefree childhood. Perhaps they're fooling themselves. We may all still be riding one.

Current proposals from Washington call for a new boost in the federal gasoline tax, to 4 1/2 cents a gallon, to make up an expected "deficit" next year in trust funds for the highway program. This tax was raised to its present 3-cent a gallon rate in 1956 to finance most of the same program, or so we are told. Before that, there was a hike in 1951 to help underwrite the Korean War, and one in 1940 for World War II. Originally, the levy was enacted as a "temporary" budget-balancing device in the thirties.

Round and round we spin, at such a fearful and wonderful rate that, blurry-eyed, we might lose sight of landmarks. One of these is the rocky crag of common sense.

If the federal government is going to tax the motorist to raise money which the state in turn — to qualify for federal road funds — has to match by taxing the same motorist, where do we truly stand? Perhaps on the threshold of extinction of the motorist, a fatal blow to an automotive civilization.

Fortunately, in this case, the argument for a federal gasoline tax increase falls flat on its long bureaucratic nose. It just happens that the federal gasoline tax and other special automotive taxes are bringing in about $1.5 billion more a year than Washington is spending on the road program. So much for the "deficit" in highway trust funds.

Moreover, the present federal gasoline tax, added to steadily climbing state motor fuel taxes, already amounts to a staggering 41 percent sales tax on a commodity most of us use every day.

Unless we call a halt to this process, however, the merry-go-round may become the only form of transportation for many. Running a car will be too costly, and those who can keep one operating may cut a lonely figure on the deserted Autobahns.

Public apathy toward the efforts of officials of the Warren Jaycees to conduct an opinion poll in regards to a Fourth of July Observance this year is a matter of surprise and disappointment. The small number of coupons turned in would seem to indicate that area residents are not the least bit interested in what will be happening in or around Warren just twenty weeks from tomorrow.

Despite the low temperature it appears the primary campaign in Warren county is beginning to warm up!

WORLD TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—How conservative is President Eisenhower?
Vice President Richard M. Nixon said Tuesday that Eisenhower — at least on domestic problems — is more conservative than the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio.
Eisenhower himself was asked last December whether he had grown more conservative since the November elections. He replied then that "so far as the philosophy is concerned, I think I have never had one single change."
Somewhat earlier, on May 15, 1957, Eisenhower was asked at another news conference about reports that he had grown less conservative since his election in 1952. His reply then: "Far from it. If anything, I think I have grown more conservative."
Eisenhower several times, in discussing his views, has coupled the word "liberal" with "conservative" to describe himself.
On Feb. 5, 1954, for instance, Eisenhower told a Republican gathering in Washington that his administration would be "liberal and human" toward people and "conservative with the people's money."
Nixon extended the description in Los Angeles this week.
"President Eisenhower is regarded as a liberal because of his international views on foreign policy," Nixon said, "but on domestic issues he is more conservative than the late Sen. Taft."
Taft himself acknowledged during the 1952 campaign — while he and Eisenhower were contesting for the Republican presidential nomination — that he and the general were more eye-to-eye on domestic than on foreign problems.
That year Eisenhower opened his bid for the presidency with a talk at Abilene, Kan., a rereading of that speech now shows that even then — at least domestically — there was very little difference between the views of Taft and Eisenhower.
But it was a time of bitter division within the Republican party, which was split into Taft and Eisenhower camps. Some Republicans called the speech "terrific" but others dismissed it as a "collection of generalities" and one jibed at it with the statement he was glad to see Eisenhower was for "mother, home and heaven."
On June 19, 1952, in a nationally televised broadcast, Taft criticized the general on both foreign and domestic policies. He even suggested Eisenhower was a New Dealer, for he said he did not believe "the New Deal wing of the Republican party" could win.
Nevertheless, Taft acknowledged that Eisenhower "has gradually come around almost to the position which I have occupied" on some domestic questions.
Still, Taft, after losing the nomination to Eisenhower, wouldn't support him until they met at breakfast in New York Sept. 12, 1952 and the senator got Eisenhower's agreement to a set of principles drawn up by Taft.
After that Taft said he could support the general with "no qualifications."
Among other things they had a joint goal of resistance to what they called centralized government and a joint goal of reducing the national budget. Eisenhower did manage to cut the budget, but it was a goal which eventually had to be abandoned.
This year Eisenhower offered Congress the biggest peacetime budget in history but is calling now on Congress to balance the budget by spending no more than he asked.
Both Taft and Eisenhower made a strong pitch against inflation. Anti-inflationism is Eisenhower's No. 1 theme this year.

Here and There

From the freezing winter nights with Washington in snow-packed forests to the raging flood waters in Warren and Meadville, Civilians in Peace, Soldiers in War, National Guard units have been there. Pennsylvania National Guard will observe our first President's birthday anniversary with their annual Muster Day program Saturday. A history-buffed outline of Guard units is contained in the following editorial, "I Am the Guard": "Civilian in Peace, Soldier in War... of security and honor, for three centuries I have been the custodian. I am the Guard. I was with Washington in the dim forests, fought the wily warrior, and watched the dark night bow to the morning... At Concord's bridge, I fired the fateful shot heard 'round the world... I bled on Bunker Hill... My footprints marked the snows at Valley Forge... I pulled a muffled oar on the barge that bridged the icy Delaware... I stood with Washington on the sun-drenched heights of Yorktown... I saw the sword surrendered... I am the Guard... I pulled the trigger that loosed the long rifle's havoc at New Orleans... These things I know—I am there!... I saw both sides of the War between the States—I was there!... The hill at San Juan felt the fury of my charge... The far plains and mountains of the Philippines echoed to my shout... On the Mexican border I stood... I am the Guard... The dark forest of the Argonne blazed with my barrage... Chateau Thierry crumbled to my cannonade... Under the arches of victory I marched in legion—I am there!... I am the Guard... I bowed briefly on the grim Corregidor, then saw the light of liberation shine on the faces of my comrades... Through the jungle and on the beaches, I fought the enemy, beat, battered and broke him... I raised our banner to the serene air on Okinawa—I scrambled over Normandy's beaches—I was there... I am the Guard... Across the 38th

Leukemia... a fatal cancer of the blood-forming tissues... is often thought of as a child's disease. This is probably because we are quick to respond to tragedies involving children. Leukemia causes about 2000 such tragedies among children each year. But the leukemia problem is far greater than this. Last year the disease killed over 9,000 adults. Furthermore, leukemia mortality is increasing in older adults while it has leveled off in children. Warren County Unit of the American Cancer Society reports. The greatest increase is in men and women over 60. The leukemia death rate for men in their early sixties has nearly tripled since 1930. And for men in their early seventies, the death rate has increased five-fold. In a quarter of a century, the leukemia death rate for these older men rose from 8.4 to 41.3 per 100,000 population. Although it occurs less frequently in women, leukemia has also risen spectacularly in the older age brackets. In the early sixties the death rate has more than doubled, and for women in their seventies it increased from 4.7 to 23 per 100,000 population. Faced with these facts, the American Cancer Society has stepped up its research attack on leukemia. It reports that current grants by the Society for leukemia research total more than $1,500,000 per year. This includes grants for virus research which may contribute to the ultimate solution of the problem, since there is some evidence that leukemia may be virus-caused. This research must be continued and expanded. Ten years ago leukemia was considered a hopeless problem. But today there is HOPE. Through the discovery of chemicals and other new techniques of treatment, it is now possible to prolong lives months and even years in some leukemia patients. A vaccine has proved effective against one kind of virus-caused mouse leukemia. There are many more promising research leads to a possible solution of the problem. Citing advances made against leukemia, the American Cancer Society has said that judging from the results of current experiments more can be expected soon. This should be one of the thoughts foremost in our minds during April, Cancer Control Month throughout Warren County.

Daily Lenten Meditations
From the Upper Room

Read 11 Timothy 2:19-26.
Every branch in me that beareth not fruit he taketh away: and every branch that beareth fruit, he purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit. (John 15:2.)
Each year on the first spring-like day in February, I take time to prune my grapevines. When we moved into our present house, the three grapevines on the arbor had been neglected and so bore little fruit. A friend taught me how to prune the vines. After cutting them back severely, I feared I would have no grapes. But in the fall I had luscious grapes in abundance!
My loving Lord comes to cut away the fruitless branches of my self-effort and feeble service to make way for His renewed grace and strength. The pruning process is painful, but I know my heavenly Father is the husbandman.
As I accept His help, I feel a new surge of peace and have the assurance of His presence. Life takes on renewed meaning as I live in obedience to His will and in the hope of bearing fruit for Him.
PRAYER
Our Father, we thank Thee that Thou dost look after each of us, Thy children, in love and tenderness. Prune away the dead branches of our lives, and fill us anew with the Holy Spirit. Keep us abiding in Christ, our living vine, that we may bring forth fruit for Thee. In the name of Thy Son, Amen.

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Do you have more money to spend today than you had a year ago?
Possibly you yourself don't. But the slide rule boys down in Washington say Americans as a whole have. Some 13 1/2 billion dollars more.
Once a month they add up all the data they can get on personal income from various sources. Their figures are closely watched by merchants and manufacturers alike, since the statistics give them some idea of how much money is available to be tapped for sale of the goods they stock or make.
The Commerce Department says that in January personal income, on a seasonally adjusted annual rate, hit a record of nearly 362 1/2 billion dollars.
What goes into this figure? Wages and salaries are the biggest item. This January they came to 244 1/2 billion dollars, up 9 1/2 billion from the previous year. The department's statisticians also gather data as best they can on what the professional man and the small business man makes for himself. It adds what landlords take in as rent, what stockholders get as dividends, and what individuals get as interest on bonds, savings accounts and the like.
Estimates of farm income are included and also benefits paid to the unemployed, to veterans, to Social Security pensioners.
From the total the department then deducts what workers contribute toward Social Security.
What can Americans do with all this 362 billion dollars? First they can pay taxes. With what's left they can pay higher prices for some goods and for many services. Then they can pay all the bills connected with the steadily rising standards of living of Americans as a whole.
In 1939 a man with a wife and two children, and with an income of $5,000, paid $9 in taxes and had $4,941 left to spend on what he needed or wanted.
Today to buy the same items and services, the man must make $11,140.

MUSCULAR PAIN

When a person sits or sleeps in a draft and awakens the next morning with a stiff, painful neck, it is generally understood that the muscles are inflamed. Some physicians disagree. To them, inflammation means bacterial invasion, and when a piece of the involved muscle is examined under the microscope, bacteria cannot be found.
Whatever the cause, it still hurts and the best explanation is the unscientific excuse, "some biochemical change, as yet undemonstrable." On the other hand, there are several diseases in which the muscles are affected in this way.
A genuine muscle infection may follow injury, especially when the wound is contaminated with streptococci or staphylococci. Chills, fever, localized pain, and tenderness develop when pus accumulates in and around the muscular tissue. The antibiotics and surgical drainage bring the condition under control quickly.
The most dreaded bacterial infection of the muscle is caused by the micro-organisms that produce gas gangrene. They thrive deep in the tissues where there is no oxygen and generate not only a gas but also a deadly toxin. In addition, the tissues become gangrenous.
This disease is most likely to occur when deep wounds are contaminated by soil and debris containing the gas bacillus. The soldier is most susceptible. A preventive is available; the antibiotics, larger doses of antitoxin, and extensive surgery are needed after the disease gains a foothold.
Inflammation of the muscles by parasitic infestation is well known. The most common is the Trichinella spirales of uncooked or rare pork fames.
Myositis ossificans is the most unusual disease of the group. The infected muscle fibers are turned into cartilage and bone. In the progressive type, the entire muscle group becomes functionless and the individual turns into "a stone man." No treatment is helpful and the cause escapes detection.
Dermatomyositis is another rare bird in which skin and muscles are inflamed simultaneously. A red rash appears, along with fever, weakness, and swelling of the muscles. The new adrenal hormones are the best remedies.

APOPLEXY AND EPILEPSY

C. B. writes: What is the difference between an attack of apoplexy and epilepsy?
REPLY
Apoplexy, or stroke, is caused by a plugged vessel or hemorrhage into the brain. Epilepsy manifests itself in the form of seizures in which the individual has a fleeting loss of consciousness with or without a convulsion. The only abnormality present in the majority of epileptics is abnormal brain waves.

CONVULSIONS FROM FEVER

Mrs. O. writes: Can high fever lead to convulsions in a child?
REPLY
Yes. A high temperature is the most common cause of convulsions in infants and children. The convulsion is comparable to the chill in adults as the opening gun of an infection. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on convulsions.

NODULAR GOITER

M. P. writes: What's a multinodular nontoxic goiter?
REPLY
Multinodular means a goiter that is checkered of cysts containing colloid material. Nontoxic refers to a thyroid gland that is not overactive and is not affecting the body adversely by raising metabolism.

Right-to-Work Adherents Press On Despite Defeats

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Far from having been ended by its five-to-one defeat in state elections last November, the battle to get "right-to-work" laws on the books is continuing.
Principal battlegrounds to ban compulsory unionism during the coming year are centered in a dozen states. There are 30 states which don't have such laws. Nineteen do.
With most state legislatures in session this year, right-to-work bills are ready for introduction in Connecticut, Delaware and Wyoming. Other possibilities for this category are Maryland, Montana and Vermont, according to National Right-to-Work Committee headquarters here.
New Mexico legislature has a resolution before it to submit the question to voters in a 1960 referendum.
This is the basic issue in most states—whether to put a law on the books by action of the legislature alone, or by submitting a constitutional amendment to the voters.

GOV. HERSCHEL V. LOVELESS of Iowa has asked his state legislature to repeal its right-to-work law, but there is considerable resistance from rural county lawmakers.
California, Idaho and Washington—in which states right-to-work amendments lost last November—are continuing their drives to get right-to-work legislation on the books.
In the other two states where referendums lost last fall, proponents in Ohio will continue an educational campaign before trying another test and Colorado has not decided its course.
Meanwhile, the man given principal credit for Kansas approval of a right-to-work amendment has been brought to Washington to help in a national drive. He is Reed Larson, 38-year-old electrical engineer, executive vice president of the Kansans for the Right-to-Work Movement for four and a half years.
As the new executive vice president of National Right-to-Work Committee, under President William T. Harrison, Larson will be available to share his experience in organizing the Kansas campaign.

THE TECHNIQUE LARSON USED was on volunteer leaders working in a united effort for a protracted drive.
The Kansas committee put on a three-year educational campaign before bringing the issue to a showdown in state legislature. The necessary two-thirds majority voted in April, 1957, to put the issue on the November, 1958, ballot. Then the committee worked another year and a half to win voter approval.
A committee was set up in every county. Finance committees took pledges a year ahead to pay for printing, advertising, billboards, radio and TV programs.
Three motion pictures were produced and 40 prints were in use seven months before election. A team of two dozen speakers was available. Displays were set up at 50 county fairs.

THE AMENDMENT PASSED in 93 of the 105 Kansas counties. In highly unionized Wichita, with big aviation and oil industries, the amendment won by only 37 votes—45,843 to 45,806.
The heads of most Wichita business firms wrote their employees in support of the legislation. But in Kansas City, where there was no business organization working actively, right-to-work was defeated three to one—36,515 to 12,700.
It is the contrast between these two cities—in one of which the businessmen worked and the other where they didn't—that Reed Larson says is responsible for right-to-work results, in this state.

Originality Is Given Full Sway In Coming Show

John Zavinski, March Players' Club director, chose Emily William's ghost play, "A Murder Has Been Arranged," because of its complete originality. The author has given each character full opportunity to create a very real atmosphere of premonition, suspicion, chill and suspense which all theatre-goers have relished since childhood days of "Hallowe'en" story telling.

Players' Club has done well in its selection of a well balanced program this season, including the comedy, excellent script and portrayals of "The Fourposter" and the equally refreshing "Song of Bernadette," presented as an advent to Christmas.

New faces, new approaches to characterizations, combined with support of more experienced actors, save amateur theatre from the sophisticated and sometimes stereotyped mannerisms noted by television and cinema audiences.

Warren Players' has provided an outlet for expression in acting, writing, music, art, design and craftsmanship and it is hoped that it will continue to provoke response, affirmative or negative, to create "live" relationships between actors and audiences (both indispensable to the other).

John Zavinski has, likewise, become indispensable to Players' Club, since joining the group in 1953, serving two years as treasurer, assisting with the production of "Janus" and taking his turn on the stage in "Suspect," "Solid Gold Cadillac" and "Bus Stop."

After graduation from Tidoute High school, where he first became active in amateur productions, he served several years with the Marine Corps Reserve. John is married, the father of one son and is employed as a Warren National Bank teller.

Lady Rebekahs Given Recognition

Four long-time members of Lady Warren Rebekah Lodge were singled out for special attention at the party given by the lodge Tuesday evening in the YWCA. Reading from left, in a Timesphoto by Saylor, are Mrs. Bertha King, Mrs. Jennie McNulty, Mrs. Maude Bright, and Mrs. Florence Knupp. All past noble grands of the lodge, Mrs. King and Mrs. Knupp were chosen to present gifts to the other two in recognition of a half-century of service to the organization.

Lady Warren Rebekah Lodge paid special honor to two of its older members Tuesday evening, with a dinner party at the YWCA activities building for Mrs. Maude Bright, member for 50 years, and Mrs. Jennie McNulty, who tops that number by two.

The six o'clock dinner was served from a table beautifully set with gold-colored mums, matching candles in brass candleholders, gold favors, gold-accented place cards, and gold-decorated napkins.

Each honored guest was presented with a corsage of golden flowers and a 50-year membership pin, Mrs. Florence Knupp "pinning" Mrs. Bright and Mrs.

Bertha King doing the honors for Mrs. McNulty. Also long-time members, Mrs. Knupp and Mrs. King are also past noble grands of the order.

The invocation was given by Mrs. Hazel Witz, greetings were read from Mrs. Edith Pentz, Hainsburg, Mrs. Celia Tickner, Westfield, and Mrs. Jennie Clark, Russell. Greetings from their own lodge were extended by Noble Grand Blanche Snavely, from the Past Noble Grands' Club by its president, Mrs. Myrtle Rogers.

For the program, Violet Borg entertained with songs, playing her own autoharp accompaniment, and supplementing these with both humorous and serious readings. Margaret Van Ord, emceeding the affair, welcomed the honored guests, members and friends, introduced Mrs. Borg and the speakers; and complimented Mrs. Bright and Mrs. McNulty on their years of service, adding a word for the inspiration they have been to other members.

All the speakers paid tribute to the honored ones, congratulating them upon reaching this milestone, and recognizing their loyalty through the years, their many acts of kindness and friendship.

Fittingly, the program came to a conclusion with singing of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

Poor Posture Leads to Wrinkles

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

The way that you hold your head when you read or walk has a good deal to do with the appearance of your neck.

If you hold your head high when you're reading and look at faces as you walk, chances are your neck is smooth and wrinkle-free. But if you bunch over your book, digging your chin into your collarbone and if you stare at the sidewalk as you walk along, chances are equally good that you're collecting a sizable web of wrinkles under the chin and a series of unlovely creases around your neck.

Posture may sound like a dull word but it has a good deal to do with your being a beauty. The fact is, no woman can possibly be a beauty unless she has posture that's nearly perfect.

The bent knee, the drooping head, the slouching walk, the curved back can all conspire to turn a woman into a caricature of what she might be.

Gals who find that their hands remain rough in spite of cleaning might resort to a trick of grandmas—white cotton gloves worn to bed at night.

It works like this: Cream your hands thoroughly, using one, two or three coats, as necessary. Then don a pair of clean old white cotton gloves. The cream or lotion will stay where it belongs, on your hands, during the night. And it will have time to do a job penetrating and smoothing the skin. The gloves can go into the washer during the day and be ready for the next evening. Floor mopping, dishes and cleaning the bathroom are all essential to good housekeeping and rough on the hands. If yours are the kind you'd rather sit on at a tea or cocktail party, try giving them the old glove routine. It really works.

If you find that your lipstick tends to cake and peel off in cold weather, try using a lip stick. This acts just as a liquid foundation does in protecting your skin and creating a base. The lipstick will stay smooth and creamy for hours.

Be sure to let it "set," however, for at least 20 minutes before you blot it with a cleansing tissue. That way, it will stay longer and with a clear outline.

The teen-ager who goes to another teen-ager's home should make it a point to speak to the parents, if they are there, when he arrives and tell them "good-bye" when he leaves. Ignoring adults in bad manners is just plain bad manners.

World Day of Prayer Service, held in the local Methodist church Friday afternoon, was well attended by members from Cable Hollow, Akaley and Russell. Mrs. Norman Johnson, of Warren, was guest speaker for an interesting talk; Mrs. Ora Miller, Akaley, sang a solo; Mrs. Ostrander and Mrs. Burford, Cable Hollow, sang a duet; Mrs. Heath Ferrie played an accordion solo; refreshments followed the program. Mrs. Ralph Baker was chairman for the event, with Mrs. Mary Root, Mrs. Charles Pearson and Mrs. Paul Wood assisting with the refreshments.

Association Is Formed To Improve Outdoor Manners

The first meeting of the Warren County Good Outdoor Manners Educational Project committee was held this week in the County Farm Agent's office.

The project, initiated by the Pennsylvania Forestry Association, developed from repeated expressions of concern over the destruction of public property and abuse of privileges at parks, camp sites, and highways, and the indifference of "recreationists" to the rights of landowners, and the apparent assumption by some that the outdoors was their to monopolize as fancy dictated.

The Good Outdoor Manners Educational Project objectively aims to support present outdoor educational programs by directing attention to each as a part of the total needs for man to develop good outdoor behavior.

Nine agencies and organizations are participating as sponsors in the State: Penna. Agricultural Extension Service, Penna. Dept. of Forests and Waters, Penna. Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs, Penna. Fish Commission, Penna. Game Commission, Penna. Soil Conservation Service, Penna. Division, Izaak Walton League of America, Penna. State Grange and Penna. Garden Club Federation.

"Have Good Outdoor Manners" is the slogan and the symbol. The raccoon will always be associated with the slogan and as a monitoring character. The project will be initiated by conducting a prize award contest that will seek an appropriate name for the trademark. Students of all grades, in any school of the Commonwealth, are eligible to participate in this contest.

Each school will receive an announcement poster for display on its bulletin board. Students will be issued a bookmarker, issued in two colors, on which the raccoon trademark, rules of contest, prize awards, and an entry blank (tear-off and with return address) will be printed. It is anticipated that thousands of entries will be received. This is, of course, desired, because it will reflect the fact that youth (and assisting adults) have studied the whimsical, admonishing raccoon and related his symbolism to Good Outdoor Manners. Information and education are being served in the most effective ways.

The name chosen will be copyrighted and used in all future displays of the raccoon symbol.

This is a continuing project, and in future years a schoolbook cover will be used to project themes on Good Outdoor Manners. The schoolbook covers will be sponsored by public-spirited concerns to provide funds for carrying on with this project.

Officers elected to head up the county group were: J. R. Reddecliff, Warren high school, chairman; Jesse Lyon, Youngsville high school principal, vice president; Blaine Schlosser, assistant county farm agent, secretary.

Others attending the meeting included: B. Wingert, county farm agent; Mrs. Jean Plimpton, Tidoute Joint Area school; Kenneth Corey, Fish Commission; Joseph Soper, Eisenhower high school; Charles Merroth, Penna. Forests and Waters; John H. Stewart, director, Penna. Forestry Ass'n and Kenneth Plimpton, Warren.

"The Store on The Bridge"

Producers Spend Huge Sums for New Reserves

WASHINGTON (AP)—Government figures show oil producers spent more than three times the depletion allowances in 1955 looking for new reserves. Rep. Tom Steed (D-Okla.) told the House Monday.

He quoted Bureau of Mines figures showing producers spent $5,100,000,000 in 1955 seeking and developing new reserves. "For every dollar from percentage depletion plowed back into the search for and development of new oil reserves, the oil industry put up $2 from other sources," he said.

Steed spoke in opposition to proposed legislation which would cut from 27½ per cent to 15 per cent the tax depletion allowance for gas and oil production.

Questions and Answers About Warren Schools

Readers are urged to send suggestions for questions in this column to School Editor, Warren Times-Mirror. The questions are answered by Dr. Carl Whipple, superintendent of schools, and his staff.

QUESTION: "Has any thought been given to inaugurating the Hay-Wingo method of teaching reading, or the language — arts program worked out by Miss Mae Carden, of Glen Rock, N. J., which starts phonics in the first week of school?"

ANSWER: "Both Hay-Wingo and Carden emphasize phonics, but we think the Ginn System is more useable than the others. We adopted it about ten years ago because Ginn makes more use of classics and offers more use of classics and offers more poetry. We are teaching a great deal of phonics, and work it in with the other skills the child is learning."

QUESTION: "Please explain what the two elementary school supervisors will do, and also when they begin their duties."

ANSWER: "These Directors of Elementary Education will begin work next August. Their duties will include conferences with the teachers, planning extension courses for the teachers or visits to observe teaching in other towns, helping in textbook selection, planning courses, and attending conferences. All our staff members turn in complete written reports suggesting how we could use the ideas presented. They will also help to select new teachers and aid the grade school principals with pupils who have problems. Other duties will be planned by the new Director of Curriculum when he is hired."

QUESTION: "In the various subjects taught, are local experts ever asked to address the classes?"

ANSWER: "Yes, more than we all realize. The best example is the Conservation Class, addressed once a week by a Forestry man or a representative of the Warren County Field and Stream Club. In Mathematics classes we often have bankers talk. It is not unusual for parents to show slides of trips to foreign countries."

"Eight years ago a committee of teachers collected names of local people who could contribute their knowledge, to class discussions. We wish persons with special interests and hobbies would contact the school office with a view to their appearing before the students."

"Ninth grade boys and girls make many field trips to visit county and borough government offices."

QUESTION: "I think it is marvelous that the Warren schools will offer special courses next summer. What age students can apply? How will they be helped specifically?"

ANSWER: "The courses for enrichment are for high school seniors, especially those going on to college. These courses in Literature and Composition, Science, and Math are intended to help the student over the difficult period of adjustment to college. The conscientious student who wants to take honors in college should enter these courses. It is becoming more and more difficult to meet college requirements."

"Now for the other courses next summer, we plan English, American History and Biology for those who have failed in these subjects. These are for Tenth, 11th and 12th grade students, whose teachers think they could pass with a satisfactory review."

"Driver Education will also be given for those over 16 years of age."

Who Says Children Aren't Always Pleasure to Be With

"Just about the time they start being a joy to live with children, are ready to leave home," says a woman reader.

What do you mean "just as they start being a joy"? Isn't it a joy to rock a small baby to sleep, to see him splash and gurgle as he plays in his bath, to watch him taking his first steps, and proudly putting together the words that make up his first sentences? Isn't it exciting to hold a young child's hand as you walk, to occasionally glimpse the world through his eyes, to have him tug at your skirt to show you something as inspiring to him as a butterfly or a leaf?

Isn't it a thrill to have a first grader rush home from school, bursting with news to tell you? You answer his questions, even though you may have to struggle to put your answer into words that he can understand.

Isn't it pleasant to share a 10-year-old's eager anticipation, and to watch a child begin to think for himself and make his own judgments and now and then to see that he is learning through experience a few of the things that you have tried to teach him?

Isn't it enjoyable to watch a child become an adolescent, with new interests, new fears, new hopes; and to have his friends around and to hear the sounds of giggling and chatter?

Isn't it thrilling to share a teen-ager's changing dreams of what he wants to do and be when he finishes school?

Is there any age from his first day on when a child isn't a joy to parents who love and try their best to understand him?

More News About Social Security

A change in the social security law effective with 1959 permits payment to a beneficiary for any month in which he does not earn wages in excess of $100 according to Howard Gift, of the Jamestown, N. Y. social security office. Payments for such months may be made regardless of total wages earned for the year.

This provision does not apply to the beneficiary whose earnings are derived entirely from the operation of a trade or business, since his earnings cannot be determined on a monthly basis. However, according to Mr. Gift, a beneficiary who is self-employed may receive benefits for any month in which he is not active in his trade or business. Of course, if the beneficiary's earnings from wages or self-employment income or a combination of both does not exceed $1200, he may receive benefit payments for all months of the year. Those beneficiaries who work throughout the year and whose earnings are in excess of $1200 in the year may receive one or more monthly payments if their total earnings do not exceed $2080. In the case of earnings in excess of $1200 one month's benefit is not payable for each $80 or fraction of $80 by which the total earnings exceed $1200. For example, if the beneficiary's total earnings for the year are $1280, he will lose one month's benefit. If his earnings are over $1280, but not more than $1360, he will lose two months' benefits.

A beneficiary who is 72 years of age or over may receive benefit payments for all months effective with the month he reaches age 72, regardless of the amount of his earnings. However, in determining if he is entitled to any benefits for months in the year prior to the month in which he reaches age 72, total earnings for the year must be considered.

Those people having further questions regarding the retirement provisions of the social security law should contact their nearest social security office for further information.

Pineapple Workers in Hawaii Sign Contract

HONOLULU (AP) — Hawaiian pineapple workers either are going to have to pay union dues or spend that much on charity.

A two-year contract between seven canneries and the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, announced Monday gives 7,000 employees these choices:

1. Remain in or join the union and pay dues.
 2. Remain out but pay dues.
 3. Remain out but pay, through payroll deductions, the equivalent of dues to a fund for certain agreed charities.
- The union, which had demanded a union shop, called the new arrangement a "dues shop."

Experiments for Freezing Man for Space Trips Start

By RALPH DIGHTON
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Experiments to determine if man can be frozen solid for years-long trips to other solar systems are under way at the University of California at Los Angeles.

Dr. John Lyman of UCLA's biotechnology laboratory plans to freeze mice and rats at first, but believes his findings can be used to turn humans into ice-like statues for ageless trips through space.

"The big problem is not getting man into space," Dr. Lyman said in an interview. "That will be done within a very few years. The problem is to keep him from becoming psychotic—going insane—under the unnatural conditions and confinement of space flight."

Giving man a natural environment—building space ships big enough to provide oxygen, food and social and recreational facilities—may be prohibitive in cost, Dr. Lyman believes.

The best answer, he said, is frozen sleep. The voyager would not need food, oxygen or companionship. His ship would be operated by electronic brains and he would be revived by an automatic warming process as he neared his destination.

Within two weeks, Dr. Lyman and his associates will begin dunking mice in dry ice-and-alcohol baths to reduce their temperatures to as low as 100 degrees below zero.

"What we want to do is stop the life processes completely, then resume them at will," Dr. Lyman said.

"If we can do this with man, he will arrive at a distant star—which might take him several normal lifetimes to reach—not one day older than he was when he left earth."

Another frozen sleep would bring the space traveler home years or even centuries after his departure, said Dr. Lyman, and he would have aged only for the period between frozen sleeps.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Chances are you'll be eating smoked ham or turkey Sunday if the food shopper in your house goes for the current bargains. Supplies of both meats are plentiful.

Ham isn't the only pork product featured. Some stores are putting on special prices for bacon, and pork chops are down 9 cents and more a pound in some areas.

Beef prices are mixed while hysers and leg of lamb are up a few pennies in scattered locations.

Potatoes remain the outstanding vegetable bargain in most stores.

Other best bets include fall cabbage, root crops, sweet potatoes, endive and escarole. The first North Carolina cooking greens are in the markets at bargain levels.

Lettuce, carrots, pascal celery, new cabbage, onions and spinach also are good buys. Eggplant, snap beans and peppers are more expensive.

Once again apples and Florida citrus rank as the top bargains on fruit counters. Apple prices firmed this week, however, as storage rooms started to grow empty, and supplies of tangerines also are growing light. Bananas, limes, California navel oranges, Puerto Rican coconuts, lemons and avocados also are good buys.

diamond lead in his own hand. The discard would keep for later. Next he played a couple of rounds of trumps just to make sure that all were out. There was no point playing more since East and West had plenty of easy discards.

Then South laid down his ace and king of hearts. Maybe the queen would drop from East and give him a chance to finesse against the ten of hearts and develop two club discards, one on the fourth heart, one on the diamond ace.

Sure enough Vic did drop the queen of hearts on the king. West had played the first heart lead so Vic knew his partner had started with three of the suit. He would have reversed with a doubton. Vic also knew that the club finesse was going to work so desperate measures were necessary.

Sure enough, South fell for the false card. He led the deuce of hearts and finessed dummy's nine whereupon Vic produced the ten and set the hand.

HEART DEATH

A coroner's jury Tuesday at Smethport cleared an elderly male resident of the McKean County Home of criminal blame in the death of a companion resident, Robert W. Iyer, Bradford, Bradford, McKean County coroner, called the inquest to look into the death of Jim Vidmont, 80, who died in the Home Friday. The panel's verdict ascribed death to a heart condition, probably aggravated by shock and strain following an altercation. The verdict concluded the other resident involved in the incident, George Kernick, "could not be found criminally liable."

PICKED A LEMON

Mrs. Bertram Schreckengost, Bames, certainly "picked a lemon" but not in the garden of love. The area lady picked a huge lemon from a tree which she grew in a small green house (built by her husband). The fruit was almost grapefruit size though more spherical, and bore a sharp thorn. Mrs. Schreckengost obviously has an unusually "green thumb", having successfully raised an orange tree, orchids and an African violet plant on which she grew three separate blooms of varying color by splicing plant leaves.

HOSPITAL PAYMENTS

Auditor General Charles C. Smith has approved a 100% State-aided Hospital payment for the quarter ended November 30, 1958, including an amount of $6,088.50 to Warren General Hospital.

SHEFFIELD

SHEFFIELD — Mrs. Bert Lyle was hostess to Junior Woman's Club Monday evening, with 23 members and guests. Mrs. Charles Rice, president, conducted a short business session, when the club voted a donation toward sending a junior representative to the meeting in Manila.

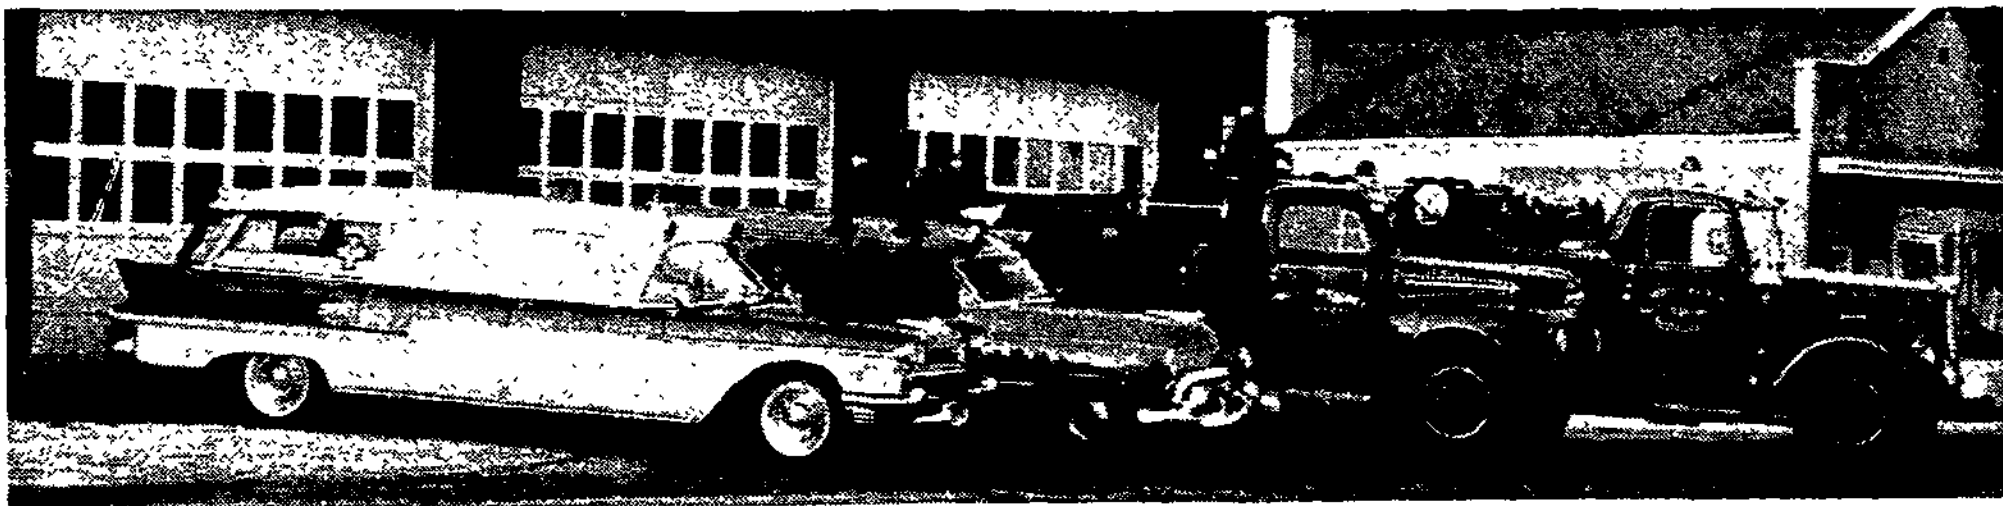

Members modeled their hat creations to the music of "In Your Easter Bonnet," with prizes awarded as follows: Prettiest, Mrs. Lyle; funniest, Mrs. Bruce Melquist; most original, Mrs. Lee Bathgate. Judges were Mrs. John Johnson and Mrs. Robert Nelson. The white mule was won by Mrs. Norman Jefferson; on the social committee were Mrs. Arold Davis and Mrs. Elmer Slack, Jr.

Acacia Club met Monday evening at the IOOF Hall, with 26 present. The meeting was conducted by President Clarence Danielson; the program was in charge of Chris Yutze, who introduced Arthur C. VanNort, of Warren, as guest speaker. The committee for refreshments was comprised of Richard Curtin, Owen Christman and W. V. Christian.

Dale Jewart, member of the Port Allegany basketball team which played here Tuesday evening, collapsed after the game and was taken by ambulance to Kane Community Hospital.

NORTH WARREN PREPARED FOR ANY EMERGENCY

Preparation is nine-tenths of the battle, and North Warren Volunteer Fire Department members are ready for almost any emergency, with two pieces of new equipment added to the fleet during the past year. The entire fleet, pictured above, includes a new Ward LaFrance 750 gpm pumper which will carry 500 gallons of water and was built to specifications. Another truck also has 500-gallon capacity. Other new vehicle is a '58 Cadillac ambulance, with all necessary appurtenances for coping with almost any situation. The second ambulance assures residents of the area the prompt and dependable service to which they are entitled. During periods of inactivity, the conveyances are housed in the recently-built fire hall. Last year, the department answered 22 alarms, spent one night searching for two lost children, participated in Civil Defense exercises, while the ambulance made 506 runs traveling approximately 11,000 miles. — Photo by Gordon Mahan.

Corydon

CORYDON — Mrs. Beulah Burch, employed at The Wilhows, on Willow Creek road, had the misfortune to fracture her right foot and ankle, and bruise her left leg badly, while attending a recent March of Dimes dinner at Onoville. Her foot and ankle will be in a cast for about six weeks.

Mrs. Neil Caldwell has received word from her cousin, Mrs. Blanche Poertner of Kirkwood, Mo., that she was not hurt in the tornado which struck recently in St. Louis, where she was born and lived before moving to suburban Kirkwood. She writes that she was awoken by a terrific roar, with vicious wind and rain that flattened to the ground limbs of three old cedar trees in her yard before sweeping on to St. Louis. Mrs. Poertner has visited here from time to time and many were concerned for her safety, telegrams coming to her from California, Florida and other places.

Members of the local Home Economics group were among other Warren county clubs visiting Jamestown recently and touring manufacturing plants and the Furniture Mart. In the group were Mrs. Geraldine Johnson, who supervises club work; Mrs. Verna Learn, Mrs. Hazel Benton, Mrs. Audrey Dunley, Mrs. Lois Hammond, Mrs. Margaret Ruth, Mrs. Edna Tome, Patience Tome, Mrs. Helen Stoltz, Mrs. Glen Dine LaDow. Next meeting for the Corydon group is scheduled March 2 at the home of Mrs. Paul Dunley.

The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Corydon Fire Department sponsored a successful turkey dinner in the fire hall, with many local and out of town persons in attendance. Members are grateful to all who helped make the affair a success.

Importance of Countywide Planning Emphasized by Work of Local Committee

After several months of preliminary planning and concentrated study, the Warren County Planning Commission has issued a warning to Warren County residents.

According to James Kannen, commission chairman, Warren County faces dangers in uncontrolled development in the near future unless countywide planning is started at once. The Commission feels that changes taking place in the county can be detrimental to property values and may retard the possibility of attracting new business interests if an orderly plan for the growth of the county is not developed.

Several townships in the county have already found property values depressed and costs of operation increasing due to private developments which have permitted overcrowding, poor water drainage, and poor road grades. Hunting camps, which should allow a maximum of nature and breathing space, have been jammed on tiny lots in some areas and many are built so close together that hunters are grouped like city dwellers.

In areas where conscientious builders have created subdivisions with new homes there is no assurance that these developments will not be spoiled by adjacent properties being developed in an undesirable manner. There is no existing means of protecting such developments as the new Eisenhower School and the proposed new Joint Area High School from being ringed by undesirable surroundings.

The relocation of Route 62 north of Warren, and the possible relocation of Route 6 between Starbuck and Youngsville will present opportunities for commercial establishments. If some control is not placed on these areas it is possible they could develop in such a way as to hamper traffic, create hazardous conditions, and increase the costs of policing the highways. Simultaneously the natural beauty of this area could be destroyed for visitors by unsightly developments of all sorts.

The County Planning Commission favors the building of the Kinzua Dam to aid in flood control which will enhance many properties now subject to flooding. If the dam is built, however, the county will be faced with a potential 3,000,000 visitors a year. These visitors will require accommodations, food, and entertainment and could bring to the county a prosperous "resort industry". To do this will require planned highways and developed areas since lack of these planned projects could result in a hodge-podge growth to resemble a "Coney Island", which might repulse many visitors coming to the area to enjoy nature at its best.

Warren County has the first mountains east of the Rockies. Much exists in the way of natural beauty which would attract city dwellers to the area both in summer and winter. We are located centrally to Buffalo, Cleveland, and Pittsburgh and new highways will bring these cities much closer in travel time than they are today. If the dam is built we will have these visitors whether we want them or not, and the effect will be felt by the boroughs and townships throughout the county.

The Planning Commission, consisting of nine men selected by the County Commissioners and serving without pay, has been studying the problems of Warren County for several months. These studies and consultations with experts in the planning field has resulted in a request to the County Commissioners to provide a professional staff to develop comprehensive plans for the county. Alarmed by the immediate need for planned future development the Commission feels that prompt and effective action is needed at once to direct the development of the county.

It is anticipated that approximately four or five months will be required to secure the services of a qualified man to serve the commission as Chief Planner for the Planning Commission.

The group also feels that many people in Warren borough and county are almost totally oblivious to the idea of the planning commission project and the need for such, and in an effort to acquaint and inform the populace with subsequent progress, President Kannen has appointed Attorney David Swanson, Dr. Robert Israel and Clifford Johnson to serve as an active publicity committee.

Collector Helps Improvement Of Taxpayer Morale

The nation's No. 1 tax collector has announced a program designed to improve service to taxpayers according to word received today by John H. Biegler, Director of Internal Revenue for the Pittsburgh District.

Dana Latham, Los Angeles tax attorney, who was sworn in as U. S. Commissioner of Internal Revenue less than three months ago, said among his basic aims is a program to improve what he terms "taxpayer morale."

"One of the best ways to carry out this objective," Mr. Latham said, "is to continue and to expand personnel development programs within the Service as our basic approach to better taxpayer service."

The first step already has been taken, Mr. Latham said. He explained he has filled or is taking action to fill all of the major vacancies within the service so as to provide direct and responsible leadership for all employees.

Appointments already made include the assistant commissioner for operations, three regional commissioners and four district directors—the top executives who supervise or direct employees dealing with taxpayers. All involved merit promotions of career officers within the Service.

His next step, Mr. Latham said, is to strengthen the so-called "Blue Ribbon" program, founded and developed by former Commissioner, Russell C. Harrington.

This program, Mr. Latham explained, provides for an efficient and smoothly functioning Service of high quality. It aims at improving the organization of work, upgrading the physical facilities and equipment, and strengthening the qualifications and productivity of personnel. It includes extensive career training activities to enable employees to work more effectively and advance up well-defined promotion ladders.

"The worth of the program," Mr. Latham said, "is proven. Under it, employee production has increased materially and employee turnover has dropped substantially. I think it is so essential to better service for taxpayers that I am prepared to go ahead with it even at the cost of further curtailment of the work force."

The country of Iraq had the ancient name of Mesopotamia, the Greek word for "Land Between the Rivers."

INSURANCE COURSE

Three local men were chosen to participate in a highly specialized insurance training course held at the National Sales Training School of Mutual of Omaha in Pittsburgh last week. Wesley D. Deming, 167 Bunea Vista, Warren; James L. Richards, 43 Highland Avenue, Youngsville; and Martin H. Thompson, 1141 West 24th Street, Erie, local representatives for Mutual of Omaha and United of Omaha, completed the course with honors after being chosen by a selection interview conducted by the companies. Associated with the O. E. Prather Agency in Erie, the men stated that this was just one step in their career training program on insurance planning.

ATTENDANT FOUND

Jamestown Sun: A gas station attendant, a little the worse for wear, who disappeared from the Mobil Station at 85th and Main Sts., in the early hours of Wednesday morning, was found by police a few hours later. Officers found the gas station unattended and a further check showed $286.58 missing from the till. Police said the attendant had been seen in the station 15 minutes before he disappeared. Finally, by the light of winter dawn, the attendant was discovered, officers said, "weaving his way home." The money was found to be intact. Company officials told police they didn't wish to prosecute because none of the money was missing, and the attendant had been entrusted with its care.

NEW YORK (AP)—A popular game today is, "If you had it to do again, what would you do different?"

hostess who poses this question at a party of middle-aged is never has to worry about ersation the rest of the evening. Her only problem is to keep rug from being flooded with tears of what might have been.

We were asked at a recent y how we would like to re- our life, and we remained it, because our first impulse to throw up.

nce then, however, we have brooding over the question, have decided a second ride the merry-go-round might be thwhile—if we could arrange ain changes.

e would choose to be born iber and richer. We are some- t weary of having an IQ high- than our bank account. Con- sense is the curse of the c and sensible. Next time we'd to be wealthy and insensible.

e would start wearing bigger as and looser collars earlier life. Most of our mistakes in ment came from a cramped d—the result of wearing shoes f a size too short and a shirt collar half a size too tight.

We would go into business for ourselves instead of working for others. A series of sharp quick bankruptcies is better than life-long serfdom.

We would marry at 17. A man who waits until 27 to marry does not have enough time left to repent.

We would have more children— oodles of them. It is more com- fortable to be old than young, and nothing ages you faster than children.

We would learn to ride a horse. In our set—the subway set—a man who can ride a horse stands out like a pimple on the face of the Mona Lisa.

We would fall in love only with red-haired women. In this life we have fallen in love only with blondes and brunettes, and feel vaguely cheated. We've never heard of a man who ran away from a red-haired woman.

We're going to see more of the world. Travel is slandering. It's the guy who sits at home in front of his television set year after year who gets broader.

We're going to spend our money as fast as we make it. We have found in this life that the more money we had in the bank the more scared we were that some Communist—or tax collector—would come along and take it away from us, and we are tired of being a coward.

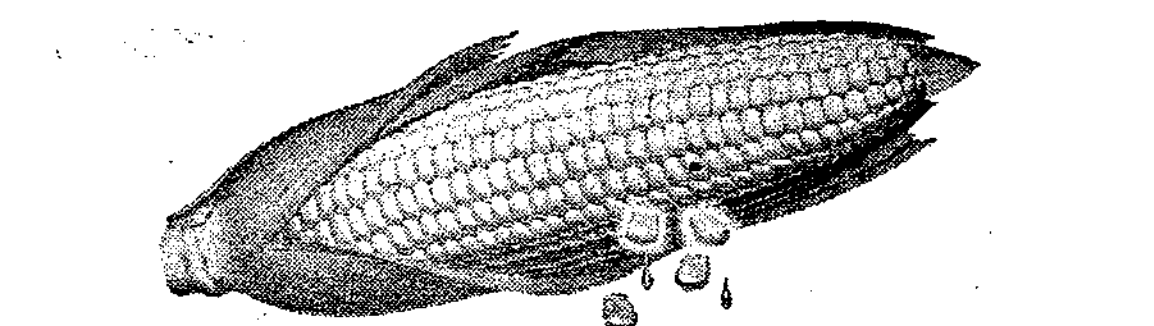

Oh, we're going to dance all day, and sing all night by the light of the moon. We're going to taste every food, try every wine, climb every balcony possible until our arteries harden.

Then we're going to lie down and die, cheerful and happy, and leave our brain to Harvard. There may not be much of it left, but whatever there is Harvard can have it!

Religion in the News

By KAY TATEISHI
TOKYO (AP) — The Protestant church in Japan celebrates its 100th anniversary this year, noting with pride its many achievements in a major non-Christian country.

There are, by government count, 332,135 Japanese Protestants in 4,312 churches out of a total population of 90 million. But there are those who feel that the cold statistics are misleading.

The Rev. Kaname Tsukahara, secretary of the National Christian Council of Japan, is one who feels they do not adequately reflect what he terms "the true following and real strength of the Japanese Protestant church."

"It is extremely important to remember," he says, "that Protestantism has had a tremendous influence on the Japanese—particularly in the cultural, educational and social welfare fields and in their daily lives."

He cites as an example the fact that some 20 members of Japan's 466-member lower house of Parliament are Protestants.

Protestantism came to Japan with a handful of clergymen in 1859 when the Christian religion was banned as dangerous to the state. The ban finally was lifted in 1873.

In the past century, Protestants list these major contributions to Japanese life:

• Founding of 228,373 schools, including 4 universities and 23 colleges and Japan's first girls' school.

• Organizing and building 23,028 YMCA and 12,093 YWCA groups, 2 hospitals, 11 medical clinics, 18 social settlements, 3 leprosariums, 3 homes for the aged, 12 orphanages and 40 miscellaneous establishments.

• Popularization of the Bible, which is Japan's top postwar best seller.

• Publication of the first Japanese-English and English-Japanese dictionary, and transliteration of the Japanese language into the Roman alphabet.

The 100th anniversary program will be observed for a week beginning Nov. 1. It will include memorial services, rallies, lectures and recitals of Christian music.

Letters to Editor

Feb. 18, 1959

Editor Times Office
Warren, Pa.

Dear Mr. Lowrey:

We are in receipt of a letter from our State W.C.T.U. president regarding the action of our State leaders pertaining to the Horse Race Referendum Bill HB3 legalizing betting, and Bingo. Those opposed to these things in our state must write at once to Gov. David L. Lawrence, State Capital, Harrisburg, Pa. asking him to rethink his attitude. Also to Hon. Hiram G. Andrews, Speaker of the House of Representatives, State Capitol, Harrisburg, Pa.

We who are opposed to any of the gambling bills will have to voice our opinion as we did last year and defeated it, or those in favor of legalizing these things will push them through.

Our State was founded by a staunch Quaker and has many laws regarding moral issues, some of these have been discarded but we cannot build character on money obtained from such source. To set up this program would also cost the State a great deal.

To the Editor:

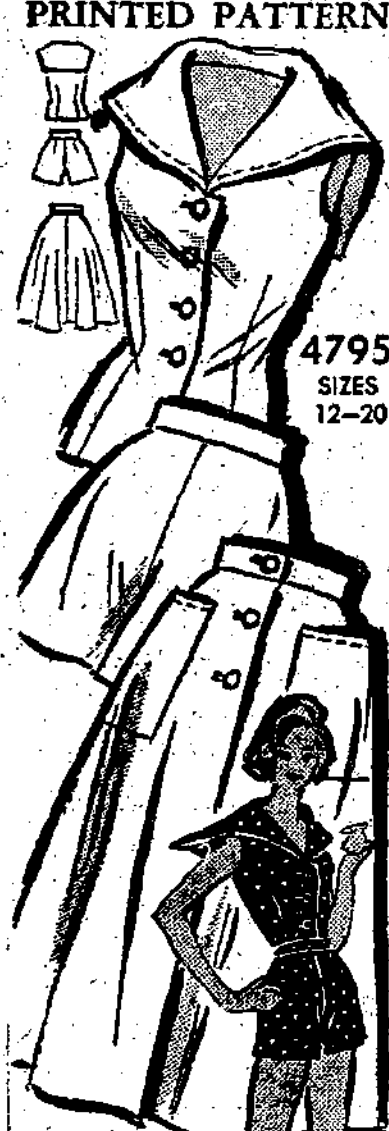

I am sure that many in Warren, like myself, would very much like to read reports of the Billy Graham Crusade in Australia. These meetings will be of great importance to Australia and the world at large.

Thanking you for your fine cooperation in the work of the churches in Warren and vicinity, I remain

Sincerely yours,

Tricky Highways Plays Havoc With Three Motorists

Slip highways fooled several drivers Wednesday as State Police reported three accidents in the area—all caused from the icy highways.

Wednesday morning on Legislative Route 61036, one mile north of Warren, D. F. Neer, Jr., 21, of 32 Poplin avenue, Bradford, skidded into guard rails when he applied his brakes. Neer told officers he observed a curve and attempted to slow down, but his car skidded and was estimated at $300.

About an hour later a State Highway Department station wagon was struck on Route 59 near the Route 6 intersection by a skidding car. Driving south on 59 was 22-year old William Senger, RD 3 Bradford. His auto skidded on the icy pavement and struck the highway vehicle traveling north, driven by Anthony C. Penick, 226 Main avenue. Only injury was a nose laceration to Merle C. Roberts, RD 1 Grand Valley, a passenger in the State car. Police estimated damages at $500.

Around 4:15 yesterday afternoon, James A. Peterson, 26, of 116 Main street, North Warren, skidded across Route 6 and over an embankment 2 miles east of Warren near Mineral Well. Traveling west on 6, the Peterson machine slid across the highway, about 50 feet sideways off the highway before going over the six-foot embankment. Damages were estimated at $400.

Forest County Senior Citizens Elect Officers

Senior Citizens of western Forest county made future plans for their newly organized group. At their second meeting Friday, February 13 in Tionesta, they voted to retain the name of Senior Citizens.

The group was in favor of electing four officers. Those elected were: Mrs. Walter Weaver of German Hill, president; John Kirsch of Neiltown, vice-president; Mrs. F. H. Wagner of Red Brush, secretary; Walter Weaver of German Hill, treasurer.

It was decided the term of office should be one year.

Rather than regular dues the group recommended that expenses be paid through free will offerings. Regular meeting date has been set for the third Friday of every month.

All men and women over sixty years old are invited to the third meeting, 2 to 4 p. m., Friday, March 20 in Tionesta. Program chairman will be Mrs. Matilda Barnett of Neiltown and Mrs. John Kirsch of Neiltown will be refreshments chairman.

This organization has been sponsored by the Forest County Agricultural Extension Association. Advisors to the group are Mrs. Kathleen Zumbro, extension home economist, and Russell M. Smith, county agent.

Army National Guard is actually older than the nation it serves. The 182nd Infantry Regiment and 101st Infantry Battalion are descended directly from units of the Massachusetts militia organized in 1636.

News of Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I never realized making a movie was so easy," says Jane Wyman, doing her first in four years.

Looking as pert and pretty as the day she left, the Oscar winner ("Johnny Belinda," 1948) is making "Holiday for Lovers" with Clifton Webb.

Only those rare souls without TV sets would ask where she has been. She has been making films for the home screen, of course. She did three years of it, then took another year to recover.

"I never did get ahead," she sighed as she recalled her hectic TV days.

"When the show ('The Jane Wyman Show') went on the air, I was already two weeks behind schedule. For the first year, I was always racing a deadline with never a chance to catch my breath. It was a scramble for three years."

She finished her last season early in 1958. The show was dropped because of anemic ratings—"they moved us into the last half-hour opposite Playhouse 90; it was too late at night to get an audience."

Jane was just as happy to get off the treadmill. For the first time in her busy life, she took a breather.

"I just did nothing, and it was glorious," she said. "Well, not quite nothing. I went East and caught the Broadway shows. I've been back to New York three times and did the Perry Como show twice."

"I've learned to fish and I love it—went up to Colorado and came home with the limit. And I've been able to start painting again."

She became so enamored with the leisurely life that she closed up her Hollywood home and moved to Lido Isle, 60 miles south in beautiful Newport Harbor.

Now she has a painting studio on the waterfront. It was all her agent could do to pry her loose for "Holiday for Lovers." But she finds making a feature movie incredibly easy after the TV grind of three days' shooting per half-hour film.

Forest Lands Valued At $400,000 are Sold

HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania sold approximately $400,000 worth of timber from state forest lands during 1958, the State Forests and Waters Department reported Wednesday.

Secretary Maurice K. Goddard said there was a smaller demand for saw timber compared with 1957, but the volume of cordwood sold for pulp increased over the previous year.

Income from the sales goes into the state's general fund.

while Officer Tridico looks on. Such duties are included in the "In Service" training of borough Civil Defense police to better equip them for service to the community. —Police Department Photos.

Of the several Civil Defense Police units throughout the State, Warren Borough's squad is one of the more outstanding. The program, instrumental in the CD Police work, was introduced in June, 1958. At this time, the men assisted Borough officers with their Sunday work, checking doors, answering questions of the hundreds of tourists that pass through Warren, directing visitors to the recreational areas in the County and all around police duties.

Their work does not always consist of "pounding the beat". Traffic and pedestrian control at civic affairs has been a main function of CD Police. The men assisted residences and Borough Police department during last month's flood, their work receiving high recognition by citizens and Borough police.

State Council of Civil Defense hands police responsibility to the County organization. Warren County unit turned the Borough problems over to Police Chief Mike Evan.

Through action of Mike Evan, Paul Reynolds was made captain of the group, Richard Moll assistant. As men enlisted for the CD Police, the unit swelled to a total of 24. Their training, provided by Department of Public Instruction of the Public Service Institute. Classroom studies were for two hours a week for a 12-week period. A total of 24 hours was spent under careful supervision. Divisions of government, constitutional rights, definition of crimes and criminal procedure were, taught in the class instruction. Observation and patrol, traffic law procedure, self defense and public relations were also included as courses.

The former four subjects for Basic Police Procedures, fundamentals of police work. When the work was completed by the prospective CD Police, David Layne, Borough Civil Defense Director, consulted with Burgess William E. Rice, who in turn asked the assistance of Mike Evan in the further training of the men.

Twelve chosen men were then put on four hour work shifts on Sundays, 8 a. m. to 12 midnight, a period of 16 hours. The CD officers worked with Borough Police in executing their duties. The program is termed "In-Service Training". Four men were used throughout the day during the various four-hour period. The Auxiliary Police watched and asked questions, learning first hand the basic police work.

"At the end of their four-hour period, the assisting officers left a written report for Borough Police Chief Mike Evan. On an average of every three weeks, Evan meets with the Civil Defense group, going over the incidents encountered during their four-hour shifts.

The various incidents were reviewed with public relations being stressed. The Auxiliary force was reminded during the meetings that there was an adverse way to handle situations, and that there was an accepted way. Evan said that this has "made an impression on the fellows, I'm sure." In reviewing their work, Evan said the CD police in Warren borough have proven themselves with their interest in assignments. It was noted that the men were inflicted with the fact that they were worthy of what they were doing.

An example of their excellent training and knowledge of problems, was the flood in January. The Civil Defense officers controlled traffic and curious seekers, prevented looting of evacuated homes and assisted in many ways during the high water period.

Their presence at football games, community functions and other crowd-drawing affairs, relieves regular officers for more important duties. The four-hour shifts are so arranged that the family life of the police isn't upset. The shifts are changed each time for the men providing greater benefit from knowledge of police duties various times of the day.

The original 12 men are now performing duties of desk officer, receiving and dispatching calls, file records and check equipment. Twelve more officers have been blended in with the initial group, bringing the force to 24 strong.

Motor Club Secretary Honored

Highlight of the February meeting of the board of governors of the Warren County Motor Club last evening, following dinner at the Blue and White Cedar room, was the presentation of a 30-year lapel button to Office Secretary Mary Corah.

Present as guests of the club were Mrs. Corah's office associates, Mrs. Jane Nelson and Mrs. Lucille Larson. All three were presented corsages previous to the dinner. Others from the office staff in attendance were Homer Bowersox, secretary, and Don Schuler, assistant secretary.

In making the presentation President L. O. Eisenhauer of Sheffield, right, reviewed briefly the important part Mrs. Corah has played in the growth of the Motor Club since it was first organized 32 years ago. He attributed the unusual progress to the interest and cordial attitude of Mrs. Corah, not only to members but the general public. Mrs. Corah, quite modestly, expressed her appreciation and thanked the board members, whom, she said, were

Tax Reform Petitions Being Circulated by JC Members

The Jaycees hope to get the signatures of 3500 Warren citizens on the Tax Reform petitions currently being circulated by members of the local chapter. Similar petitions are being circulated by Jaycee chapters throughout the country and a modern-day "Paul Revere" will deliver these thousands of petitions to legislators in Washington this Spring.

"Paul Revere" is a young Jaycee named Mike Gravel from Anchorage, Alaska. He is now making his way across the country visiting communities where Project Tax Reform is being conducted, collecting the petitions and moving on. His ultimate destination is Washington.

HIGH FASHION — Julie London models the very latest thing in evening gowns — for her. The Hollywood actress has worn the "old look" in several of her pictures. What's more, she prefers the '59 fashions over the ones of '58. The gowns were really glamorous then, she says.

On a survey of bright high school students, Indiana University discovered main reason somany did not go on to college were lack of funds or early marriages.

The Mature Parent
'Get Tough' Approach Is Not The Answer to Delinquency
BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

A toddler is a captivating creature. He's also a ferocious little egotist who just can't register any feelings but his own.

If he wants to finish his mud pie, he has only one response to you wish to feed him supper: he doesn't want to be bothered with it. You may be tired; your best friend may have died in the night. Whatever the feeling behind your wish to feed him supper, it doesn't exist for him.

There's only one feeling—his. So if you call attention to yours, he'll shove you away. He'll roar with rage. He'll kick you in the shins to get rid of the inconveniences your different feeling presents to him.

Police commissioners who advocate crackdown on juvenile crime closely resemble toddlers. So do the people who want bad parents punished.

For them too, the only feelings that exist are their feelings. Their one response to the intrusion of different ones is the toddler's—shove them away, roar with rage, kick the social inconvenience of juvenile lawlessness in the shins.

Time develops maturity in most toddlers. But it has failed to develop it in the retarded adults who see crackdown as the one solution to feelings different from theirs.

It would be lovely if we could always get rid of what we don't like by slapping it away. But this is not possible outside of nurseries. To process the 550,000 youngsters who are annually involved with the law, we spend millions of dollars getting nowhere. Our toddler solutions just don't work. Every day more children break the law. Every day their degree of violence grows more terrifying.

Soon we're going to have to grow up. We will have to stop slapping and kicking—and accept the inconvenient fact that long experience with neglect, ignorance, shame, fear and brutality creates feelings which are different from ours.

And we are going to have to absorb it, not because it is noble to, but because if we don't the juvenile criminal and the different feelings that possess him can destroy us.

If your town is afflicted with young lawlessness, I suggest that you write to the Children's Bureau, U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Washington, D.C.

Ask for information on "Operation Help"—Honolulu's new working method for dissolving the feelings which make criminals of children.

Tar Heels Still Have Tough Time To Cop the Title

By DON WEISS

Associated Press Sports Writer

North Carolina is the proven class of Atlantic Coast Conference basketball but the Tar Heels still have to go through two more weeks of "Russian roulette" before they can attempt another national championship.

Russian roulette is Coach Frank McGuire's term for an ACC system that junks a full season of competition and orders a post-season tournament to determine the conference representative in the National Collegiate championships.

With an 11-0 conference slate, owned by the Tar Heels after Wednesday night's 74-67 victory over arch rival North Carolina State, most teams could start firming plans for the NCAA. Especially with only three second-division teams still to be met during the regular season and runner-up N.C. State ineligible because of NCAA probation.

But McGuire and the Tar Heels will have to keep spinning the cylinder and hope that luck does not run out during the ACC tournament at Raleigh March 5-7. The jittery bystander is the NCAA itself which would like to have the team currently rated the nation's best in The Associated Press poll.

North Carolina (17-1) nailed its second clutch decision over State by sinking 26 of 30 free throws in the feature of a class-packed Wednesday program. In other big ones, Eastern Kentucky wrapped up the Ohio Valley Conference and an NCAA berth with a 72-70 victory over Western Kentucky; Kentucky kept in the Southeastern chase with a revenge 83-71 triumph over Vanderbilt; Texas Christian moved closer to the Southwest Conference title in a 68-64 decision over Rice, and West Virginia—which also plays a tournament to get into a tournament—battered Pitt 90-69.

Missouri Team Takes Lead in the A.B.C.

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Clinton's Drugs team of Vandalia, Mo., took over the lead in the booster division of the 58th annual American Bowling Congress tournament Wednesday.

With leadoff man L. G. Haynie rolling a 606 series, Clinton's posted a 2746 and knocked Jones Truck Lines of Muskogee, Okla., into second place. Jones had gained the lead Sunday, first day of the 72-day tourney, with 2112.

The booster division is for teams with an average of 850 or less.

In the open team division, Blatz Beer of Toledo, Ohio, moved into eighth place with 2830. Metropolitan Clothing of Dayton, Ohio, leads that division with 2955.

No one broke into the top 10 in the singles, doubles or all-events divisions.

Pirate Batteries on Hand for the Opening

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — Pitchers and catchers were on hand today as the Pittsburgh Pirates opened spring training for the 1959 National League season.

Infielders and outfielders aren't due until Sunday, but several already have checked into hotels and motels around Fort Myers.

Among the early arrivals was a pitcher, Bob Skinner, who signed his contract for a reported substantial increase following a brief meeting Wednesday with General Manager Joe L. Brown. Terms weren't disclosed.

Smoky Burgess, recently acquired from Cincinnati in the Frank Thomas trade, also came to terms, leaving only three players unsigned. They are pitcher Bob Porterfield, infielder Rocky Nelson and outfielder Joe Christopher.

Heavy Snow Threatens Tests at Squaw Valley

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — Cussing the weather was the favorite sport at Squaw Valley today as heavy snow fell steadily on ski courses where pre-Olympic tests are scheduled this weekend.

More than 18 inches of snow fell Wednesday and was continuing.

While most of the early arriving contestants holed up in their dormitories, 105 millimeter recoilless rifles banged away Wednesday at dangerous cornices on the ski courses, trying to knock down snow pileups that might cause avalanches.

Russian, Chilean, Japanese and United States skiers already here spent the day getting their equipment ready, waxing skis, oiling shoes. Only the hardest few ventured out in the storm.

Banks Insists He Is Satisfied With His 1959 Contract

DALLAS (AP) — Ernie Banks, the Chicago Cubs' clubbing shortstop, says when he reports for spring training all he'll have his hand out for is pop flies—he's satisfied with his pay.

"Oh, you hear a lot of talk about how much this man and that man is making," he said in an interview Wednesday. "And some people say they think some get too much and some not enough. I think some of those figures become exaggerated. But anyway I'm perfectly satisfied. I just feel that I'm very fortunate to be playing for such a fine organization."

Banks avoided naming his own salary, but it is generally thought to be $42,000 this year.

That is after belting 47 homers last year, the most ever hit by a shortstop, and winning the National League's most valuable player award.

List Of Baseball Hospital Patients Continues to Grow

By BEN OLAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

Baseball's hospital patients shared the spotlight today with the latest contract signees and potential holdouts.

Red Schoendienst, Milwaukee second baseman, and Bill Rigney, San Francisco manager, who are hospitalized, were joined Wednesday by Lindy McDaniel, St. Louis Cardinals' right-handed pitcher.

McDaniel underwent an emergency appendectomy in Meridian, Miss. He is expected to join the Cardinals in St. Petersburg, Fla. next week.

Schoendienst, who has tuberculosis, is expected to undergo surgery today for removal of a small diseased portion of his lung. His physician said, "We are optimistic about Red's chances of playing in 1960."

Rigney is recovering rapidly from injuries received in an automobile accident. Giants' President Horace Stoneham talked with Rigney by phone from Phoenix, Ariz. and reported, "It looks like he will be out of the hospital Friday and could be here Monday for the official opening of spring training."

BEGINNING TO THAW

$64 Question Answered Tonight: Warren Dragons Of Undeclared Calibre?

With the sectional wrestling tournament just two days away, Titusville Rockets made last minute preparations on their pad today, in hopes of launching Warren Dragons into their first loss (in the final meet) of the season tonight.

Rockets keenly remember their only loss, at the hands of Warren. Titusville grapplers also have their eyes set on individual honors in Saturday's tourney in Franklin, of which Warren is defending champ.

When Titusville rolled over undefeated (25 meets) Greenville two weeks ago, local fans began wondering if Dragons were able to snatch up another upset, after already scoring two.

Let's take a look at the local story. Over a period of three years, the Blue and White matmen have won 22 contests, dropping 6. Dragons haven't won a sectional since two years ago when Titusville beat them.

What do all the facts amount to? Well, considering other bouts we termed "tough," "crucial," etc., the meet tonight will top them all!

Warren may have an advantage over Titusville in the fact that the locals have four undefeated men, Rockets having two. For Warren it's John Colvin, Gail Page, Andy Larson and Bob Long. Jim DeMille and Chuck Shaffer have yet to taste defeat on the Rocket squad.

Jayvees are expected to get action rolling at 7 p. m., varsity following.

Likely starters:

95—Dean Lester vs. Granda.

103—Rich Cummings vs. DeMille.

112—Larry Campbell vs. Bush.

118—Gail Page vs. Turner.

127—Craig Brian vs. Volsin.

133—Bob Long vs. Ghering.

138—John Colvin vs. Helfrich.

145—Ron Sedar vs. Shaffer.

154—Andy Larson vs. Armstrong.

165—John Mead vs. Emerson.

185—Jim Olson vs. Nelson.

Sizing Up the Teams

By DANNY MURTAUGH

Pittsburgh Pirates

WOODLYN, Pa. (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates are once again relying on the old baseball axiom, "strength through the middle," to put them back in the first division.

Personally, I think we compare very favorably with the other clubs in our league down the middle. That is, catching, pitching, second, short and center field.

Smoky Burgess, Hank Foiles and Danny Kravitz will do the job behind the bat. I'll get the pitching after a bit. It is around second base that I'm most delighted. Our club is very strong there.

In Bill Mazerowski, our second baseman, I feel we have one of the coming greats in baseball. This boy is only 22 years old and has already played three years in the majors. Last season he set a club record of 19 home runs by a second baseman. I've been in baseball 20 years and have never seen a pivot man his equal.

Dick Groat, our shortstop, is one of the most under-rated players in our league. Every good team must have a capable leader and Groat fits that capacity.

We have a very fine defensive center fielder named Billy Virdon.

I think that our true strength will lie in our pitching staff.

In Bob Friend we have one of the top right-handers in the league—a 22-game winner last year.

Ronnie Kline was our tough luck pitcher in 1958. I feel that if we give Kline the same batting support that we gave several of our other pitchers last season, he can become a 20-game winner.

We also have Harvey Haddix, a fine pitcher whom he obtained

PIAA 'Class A' Cage Teams Fall Into Playoff Order

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Contenders in the 1959 PIAA Class A basketball playoffs were falling into line today.

Bristol and Ambler earned playoff spots in Dist. 1 Tuesday night by winning their league titles.

Susquehanna clinched a Dist. 3 berth.

In Dist. 7 (WPIAL), Washington (Sect. IV), Homestead (VI), Midland (VII) and Rostraver (X) joined the seven teams that clinched playoff spots last week: Uniontown, Farrell, Turtle Creek, Stowe, German, Leechburg and Crafton.

But in WPIAL Sect. I, Harbrack and New Kensington will have to play for the title. Charleroi is the defending district champion.

Meanwhile, Williamsport, playing a cliff-hanger role, won a key game in its bid for the Dist. 4 playoffs, which it won last year.

In another big game, DuBois defeated defending Dist. 9 champion Punxsutawney 44-41. The Beavers, now 10-1, thus were assured a tie for the district title. All the Class A teams in Dist. 9 play in one league, eliminating the need for a playoff. Punxsutawney now is 7-2 with three games left.

DuBois meets Bradford on the Beavers' court Feb. 27. A win then, or a loss by Punxsutawney in the meantime, would make the Beavers the new district champions.

Here's the list of favorites in each district, with the principal contenders:

Dist. 1—Chester with West Chester, Ambler, Bristol, Yeadon and Lansdowne-Aldan.

Dist. 2—Old Forge with Nanticoke.

Dist. 3—Carlisle with William Penn and York.

Dist. 4—Williamsport with Milton, Shamokin, Kulpmont and Sayre.

Dist. 5—Everett.

Dist. 6—Altoona with Johnstown, Indiana, Richland Twp., Lewisburg, Hollidaysburg and Lock Haven.

Dist. 7—Farrell with the various section champions.

Dist. 8—No favorite, Westinghouse, Peabody, Fifth Ave. and South Hills are the leading contenders.

Dist. 9—DuBois with Punxsutawney.

Dist. 10—Erie Strong Vincent with Franklin, Titusville, Meadville, Warren and Sharpville.

Mike DeJohn Is Okayed by Liston In Sixth Round

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Managers of Charles (Sonny) Liston, hard-hitting heavyweight from Philadelphia, hollered for "only rated fighters" today after he stopped Mike DeJohn of Syracuse, N. Y., Wednesday night in six rounds.

Liston, who has lost only one of 24 fights, floored DeJohn twice in the sixth before Referee Jimmy Peeler stopped it at 2:43.

DeJohn, a lanky 202-pounder who now has only five of 43, clearly had the worst of the nationally televised fight, but his managers complained because the match was stopped.

Mike appeared to be waiting for Liston to tire but the Philadelphia never slowed up. He rallied sharply in the fourth to stun Liston with a hard left to the jaw, followed by a right to the head. Liston weighed 209½.

The fight drew 3,858 paid admission and a gross of $13,250 in the New Exhibition Hall.

The first time DeJohn took the mandatory eight count in the sixth Liston landed a right to the chin while Mike was on one knee. It appeared to be a reflex action and unintentional. DeJohn's handlers complained bitterly about it.

DeJohn's corner maintained he had been hit while down. Peeler said he would have "taken a point away" from Liston if the sixth round had been scored.

Johanson Will Bring Relatives And Girl Friend

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Ingemar Johansson is not going to take any chances of getting homesick while working out for his title fight with heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson.

The Swedish heavyweight said today he will take his parents, brother Rolf, a few more relatives and his girl friend with him to the United States. The date and site of the fight have not been announced but it is expected to be held late in June in either Los Angeles or New York.

"I want to feel at home when I am preparing myself for a fight," Johansson said. "I get homesick if I don't have my folks around."

The 26-year-old fair-haired Swede, who got his impressive biceps by paving streets and now runs a highly motorized contracting firm to do similar jobs, is fairly confident he'll beat Patterson.

He and Liston exchanged heated words. And DeJohn made a couple of tentative swings at the big Philadelphian before he was restrained.

WHERE GIANTS RUB SHOULDERS—Newsmag above focuses on a remote and barren part of the globe, the borderland between Red Russia and Red China. Though sparsely inhabited, it's an area where growing ideological friction could burst into military flames. It is the longest common boundary in the world, if the former Chinese province of Outer Mongolia (now Mongolian People's Republic) is included. While China has three times the population of Russia, the Soviets have nearly two and one-half times as much land. Formerly a docile novice at the temple of communism, China now violently worships the Marxist idol. Russia's leadership in communism appears in jeopardy.

Kitchen's 'Tomorrow' Items Come Closer to Reality

BY KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

Showy, scientific marvels of appliances beamed to the kitchen of the future command a certain awe from homemakers who may feel mealtime preparation is complicated enough without more buttons to push.

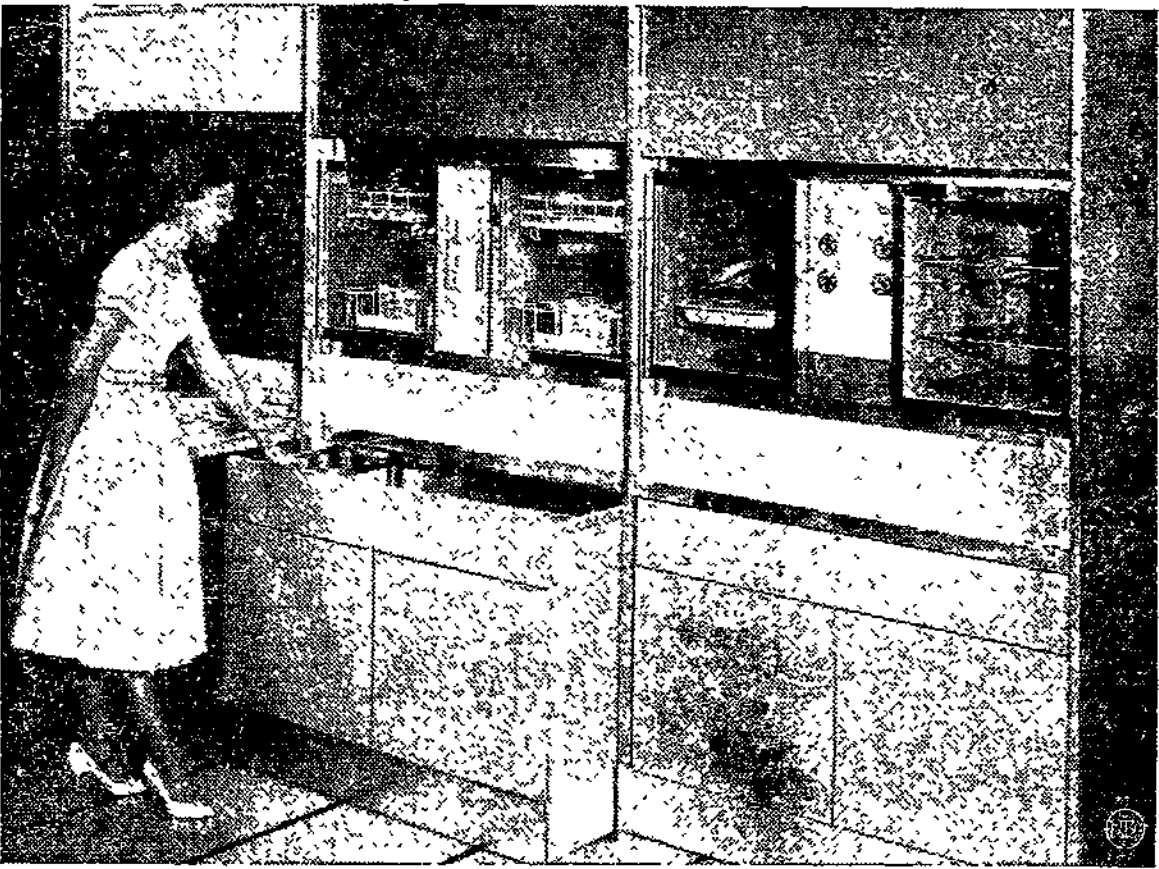

In the past, some of these marvels have been so complicated that a timid person could assure herself she'd never have to encounter them.

The appliances-of-the-future previewed this winter have taken another tack.

They're showy enough, but they're geared to the practical consideration that if enough people want them they could be made available within a few years, or less.

One large firm, for example, shows custom-made working models of new developments and conducts detailed research into consumer reaction.

Limited production of those models that excite the most favorable comment is undertaken and units are distributed for further testing.

Room-dividing wall puts all kitchen appliances in three units, each four feet wide. Model is shown pulling out sink unit. Behind her is the refrigeration unit. At right is the cooking center. Work counters pull out, as do freezer and range surface elements. This design was previewed recently for consumer reaction.

ONE OF THE MOST ambitious projects is an appliance wall divided into three sections: refrigeration-freezer, clean-up unit, and cooking section.

The wall has an overall length of 12 feet, is ceiling height, and is 27 inches deep.

It could be used as a room divider.

The freezer, the sink with its food waste disposer and the range surface units pull out from base cabinets in a drawer-like arrangement. Storage space is provided, too.

Above pull-outs are the refrigerator, in one unit, two dishwashers (one for pots and pans) in the second and two ovens in the third. When they're not in use, sliding doors conceal them.

A feature of the food preparation unit is what is described as "programmed cooking." A perforated card keyed to certain menus or recipes is inserted in a master timer.

Food placed on surface units or in the oven will automatically start and stop cooking at the proper time.

THIS APPLIANCE WALL, done in neutral "furniture finish" shades, stainless steel, glass and other new designs points also to the trend toward more of a furniture look and more concealment of workaday utensils.

Larger, more open kitchens or kitchen-family rooms help this trend along, too.

One manufacturer has storage cabinets and a refrigerator which, when closed, look like slightly overgrown base cabinets with a stepped-back top.

Push a button, however, and shelves rise, revealing all sorts of space for food or utensil storage. The shelves can be stopped anywhere you wish.

Hand-made samples are currently being home-tested. Inaudible sound waves course-ing through the water penetrate, loosen and remove foreign material from dishes in a new, ultrasonic dishwasher.

Ultrasonic washing machines are in use in hospitals for cleaning instruments. Main obstacle in the way of the home version is relative high cost in relation to conventional dishwashers.

The company that shows the ultrasonic dishwasher also previews a new type of refrigerator. Cold is made directly from electricity. No compressor is required, freeing the refrigerator from its familiar bulky shape.

Modified Empire Is for Everyone

This is the soft, uncluttered and very feminine look of suits and coats for spring. Interpreted in fine, lightweight fabrics suited to sunny spring weather, they are very wearable fashions. Suit (left) is in featherweight nubby silk-and-wool tweed in a mixture of black and white. It has single button closing, narrow scarf collar and skirt with loose front panel. Another version of the spring suit is this one (center) in a silk-and-wool tweed. It has jacket with gentle fit, indicated Empire line with front bow closing and kimono sleeves. The color is a bright blue. Coat in pale beige (right) is in an imported loop mohair fabric. It has Empire waistline with wide belt and bow collar cut with standaway lines. All designs are by Molly for Jack Sarnoff. They demonstrate clearly the relaxed look of spring clothes.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—This is the spring of the high-rising waistline and the generally easy silhouette in both suits and coats.

But, girls, don't let the notion of the high waistline frighten you. It won't be under your chin someplace, as the first Empire styles were. And it won't be difficult to wear. It has been adapted by American designers, who developed it ahead of Paris, in a manner acceptable to American women.

This means that while it has elegance and newness, it is not extreme, not unbecoming and not likely to evoke a whole series of cartoons and jokes. Quite often, it's handled so gently that it's really just indicated by banding, seaming, a bow or a wide belt which can be removed to change entirely the look of the coat or suit.

Actually, the Empire theme as it is this spring is very different from the original French Empire line. The original line was developed as an example of stark simplicity in direct contrast to the lavish luxury and spendthrift mood of the just-vanished French court. It was a pencil-straight line falling from a high and narrow bustline.

The present Empire line is really a pretty and very modified version of a high waistline. As such, nearly any woman can wear it this spring.

Brilliant Colors in Her Wardrobe

The 1959 Maid of Cotton is Malinda Berry, a blue-eyed beauty from Oklahoma. She is the first Maid of Cotton to fly around the world on her tour of good will for the American cotton industry. Shown here are some of the fashions she will wear on her trip across the United States, Europe and the Far East. The color and glamour of the islands are in this tunic sheath (left) by Nani of Hawaii. Brilliant sea and sky blues are blended in a cotton print over solid color. Luxurious evening coat (center) by Claire Schaffel is in mauve cotton satin. Enormous cape-stole collar covers the shoulders. En route, Malinda Berry will wear ensembles like this one designed for her by Mr. Mori. It's a black-and-white herringbone tweed jacket, cropped at the waist, with a slim dress beneath. Wide belt emphasizes brief jacket cut.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — This year's Maid of Cotton, Malinda Berry, is the first Maid to fly around the world as fashion ambassador for the American cotton industry.

On her trip she will wear cotton fashions designed for her by 44 top American designers. These range from sportswear right on through to elaborate and formal evening clothes. Even her accessories emphasize cotton: gloves, hats and bags.

For her journeys across the United States, to Europe, Hawaii and the Far East, her wardrobe must necessarily include clothes for all climates. The Maid of Cotton begins her trip from New York in winter and completes it in June. Therefore, cotton has to be versatile in order to meet the demands of climate changes.

In Malinda Berry's suitcases, therefore, will be an all-weather ensemble in water-repellent poplin. She will have an ensemble in corduroy and print done in brilliant shades of turquoise.

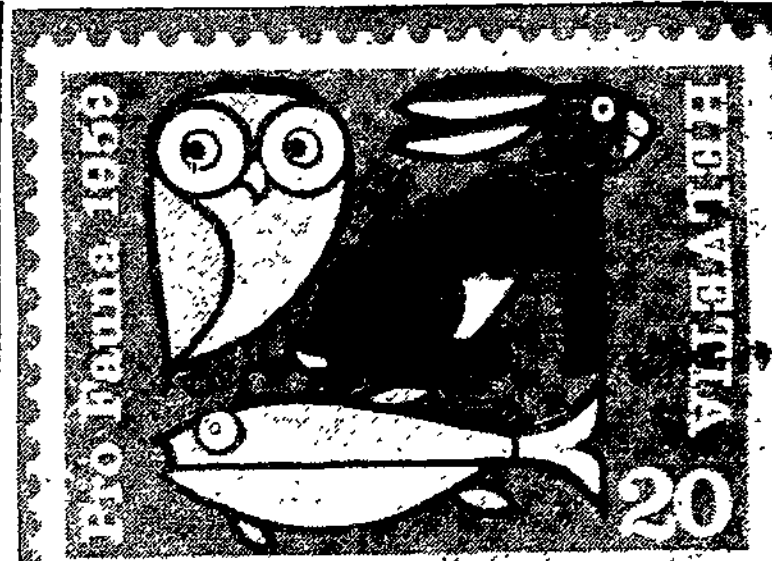

When she goes sightseeing in London, she will wear a zinnia pink, nubby cotton travel suit with brief jacket and pleated skirt. For her visit to Karachi, Bombay and Bangkok, she will have cotton tweeds in coating to suiting weights. One dramatic black-and-white tweed coat is styled for wear in rain or sun.

Her wardrobe emphasizes use of rich and brilliant colors. Combinations of pink and yellow, jet black and bronze, rich pink and blue, tangerine and pink, saffron and paprika point up new color ideas.

LOOK OUT—Keith Smith, left, and Benny Byrd flailed away at each other with tightly shut eyes and the result was a lot of missed punches. They tangled in junior tournament in Dallas.

"Setting a good table costs less than you think"...

Not long ago, a guest of mine told me my butter was the best she had tasted in all her born days. Would I please tell her where she could buy it?

Well, I could almost tell her the name of the cow whose cream it was made from. It was famous Louella Butter, and like thousands of other people, I visited one of the model creameries in Wisconsin last year where it is produced for Nu-Way.

It was a pleasure to tell her all this, especially as she liked to be thrifty, and Louella Butter... at just 69c a pound... gave me an excuse to take her shopping at my Nu-Way Super Market. She could see that Nu-Way offers the finest groceries of all kinds at real money-saving prices. So now she's boasting about the values she gets at Nu-Way.
